NOTE.—The Table is to be read as follows:—Of the 12,889 tenements enumerated in 1901, 5,354 were tenements of less than five rooms, and of these 55 were tenements of one room, 601 of two rooms, etc.; and of the 55 tenements of one room, 48 were occupied by one person each, 4 by two persons each, etc. Tables 20 and 21 are to be read in a similar manner.

* In 1891 the Tenements were abstracted for the Registration County; in order to make the figures for that area comparable with those for the Administrative County in 1901, it has been necessary to make approximate adjustments.

TABLE 32.—OCCUPATIONS of MALES and FEMALES AGED 10 YEARS AND UPWARDS, in the ADMINISTRATIVE COUNTY, distinguishing for FEMALES the UNMARRIED and the MARRIED or WIDOWED, 1901.

NOTE.—In classifying the people by their Occupations the following rules have been observed:—Persons returned as engaged in more than one occupation have been referred to the occupation which in each case appeared to be the most important; or, if there was no difference in this respect, to the occupation first mentioned in the Return. Thus, a manufacturing trade has been selected in preference to a selling trade. A Clergyman who is also a Schoolmaster has been classed under the heading "Schoolmaster." Persons returned as "Pensioners," or as "Retired" from any specified profession or business (except Officers of the Army or Navy, Clergymen, and Medical Men) appear in this Table as simply "Pensioners" or "Retired" (see Order XXIII.), but are classified in Table 34 according to their former occupations. Inmates of Lunatic Asylums or of Workhouses, when returned as Insane and yet described by their former occupations, have—irrespective of age—been classed as "Retired." Other inmates of Workhouses, unless aged 60 years or upwards, and Patients in Hospitals and Prisoners of all ages, have been classed under their stated occupations on the assumption that their ordinary work has been relinquished for a time only. Inmates of Workhouses aged 60 years and upwards, whose former occupations were returned, have been dealt with as "Retired."

The numbers given under any heading include Apprentices, Assistants, Workmen, and Labourers, as well as Masters, except where special headings are provided for subordinates. Messengers, Errand Boys, Porters, and Watchmen are, however, shown under a separate heading, particular service in which they are engaged.

In some cases women and children, chiefly widows or orphans carrying on the business of their husbands or fathers, are classed under Occupations commonly followed only by adult men.

In the list of Occupations the Male designations only are given for convenience, except where the occupations are exclusively followed by Females.

In Table 35 is given a condensed list of occupations for the Aggregate of Urban Districts and the Aggregate of Rural Districts, together constituting the entire County, with the numbers of each sex at five groups of ages engaged in such Occupations.

No Persons were returned in 1901 as suffering from Combined Infirmities "from Childhood."

The figures given for 1891 relate to the County of Huntingdon as then constituted for Registration purposes, while those for 1901 relate to the Administrative County. The differences in the boundaries of the two areas are not of sufficient importance to materially affect the figures for purposes of comparison.

† The figures relating to the Deaf and Dumb from Childhood are based on the descriptions given in the Schedules, and must be regarded as incomplete.

‡ The Census Schedule did not require persons who were Deaf without being Dumb to mention the fact of their Deafness, and therefore the figures given for the "Deaf" cannot be regarded as complete.

§ In 1891 the heading of the Census Schedule was "Lunatic, Imbecile, or Idiot," and the persons so returned were eventually classed as "Mentally Deranged." In 1901 the heading of the Schedule provided for two categories of the Mentally Deranged, viz., "Lunatic," and "Imbecile, Feeble-minded," and in drawing comparisons from the figures for the two Censuses, allowance must be made for these differences. The figures for 1891 for the new sub-divisions of Mentally Deranged cannot therefore be given. Total "Lunatic, Imbecile, and Feeble-minded," 1901:—69 Persons; 35 Males, 34 Females. Total "Mentally Deranged," 1891:—68 Persons; 27 Males, 41 Females. The small number of Lunatics in Huntingdonshire in both 1891 and 1901 is due to the fact that the Beds, Herts and Hunts Lunatic Asylum is situated in Bedfordshire.

|| This person was returned as Blind and Deaf.

CENSUS OF 1901.

COUNTY OF KENT.

SUMMARY OF THE CENSUS RESULTS.

The Ancient or Geographical County of Kent (exclusive of the Parishes situated in the Administrative County of London) contains, according to revised returns furnished by His Majesty's Ordnance Survey Department, an area of 974,950 statute acres. Its population numbers 935,855 persons. In 1801 the population was 258,973; it has, therefore, increased during the Century nearly four-fold. The population of the entire Ancient County, inclusive of the Metropolitan Parishes, is 1,348,841 to which it has risen from 308,667 in 1801.

AREA AND POPULATION.
TABLES 1, 2,
AND 3.

The Administrative County, together with the City and County Borough of Canterbury, contains an area of 976,881 statute acres, and a population of 961,139, against 830,390 in 1891, an increase of 15·7 per cent.; the number of Inhabited Houses is 188,193, against 157,736 in 1891, an increase of 19·3 per cent.; of uninhabited houses the number is 12,001, against 10,679 in 1891, an increase of 12·4 per cent.; and of houses building, 2,496, against 1,024 in 1891, an increase of 143·8 per cent. Of the 12,001 uninhabited houses, 5,011 are "In Occupation," that is, utilised for business or other purposes, but without inmates on Census night.

The Registration County contains an area of 969,890 statute acres, and a population of 935,144. The differences between the Ancient, the Administrative, and the Registration County are set forth in Table 2. The respective boundaries of the Administrative and of the Registration County are delineated on the Map attached.

Where comparative figures are quoted, those for 1891 generally relate to areas as constituted in 1901.

The Extra-Metropolitan part of the Ancient County of Kent is divided for Parliamentary purposes into 15 Constituencies—8 Divisions of the County and 7 Boroughs. The Parliamentary Boroughs of Canterbury (City), Chatham, Dover, Gravesend, Hythe, Maidstone, and Rochester (City) each return one Member. The North Western or Dartford Division, the population of which increased from 79,853 in 1891 to 109,889 in 1901, is the only Constituency in Kent with a population exceeding 100,000.

There are 476 Ecclesiastical Parishes or Districts situated wholly or partly within the Ancient County of Kent. Of these 476 Parishes, or parts of Parishes, 415, with an aggregate population of 735,557, are within the Diocese of Canterbury; 58, with a population of 200,012, in that of Rochester; and 3 (one containing area only), with a population of 286, in that of Chichester.

CAL PARISHES.
TABLE 5.

The Administrative County contains a population of 936,240, and the City and County Borough of Canterbury a population of 24,899, the aggregate population thus amounting to 961,139. The increase in the Administrative County since 1891, apart from the City of Canterbury, is 128,912, or 16·0 per cent.; in the City of Canterbury it is 1,837, or 8·0 per cent.; and in the total population 130,749, or 15·7 per cent.

TABLE 6.

The Administrative County has two Courts of Quarter Sessions—East and West Kent—and is divided into 16 Petty Sessional Divisions; in addition the Ancient Liberty of Romney Marsh has Petty and General Sessions. Sixteen Municipal Boroughs have separate Commissions of the Peace, and 12 of these, including the City of Canterbury, have also separate Courts of Quarter Sessions. The Ancient Ports of Dover and Sandwich have separate Commissions of the Peace and separate Courts of Quarter Sessions.

TABLE 8.

The total population of Urban Districts (including the City and County Borough of Canterbury, which is a County of itself) and Municipal Boroughs, amounts to 658,233, and that of Rural Districts, to 302,906. The population in the Urban Districts has increased by 121,138, or 22·6 per cent., since 1891, and that in the Rural Districts by 9,611, or 3·3 per cent.

All the Urban Districts in Kent have increased in population during the intercensal period with the exception of the Boroughs of New Romney and Tenterden, in which small decreases in population have occurred.

RURAL DISTRICTS.
TABLE 10.

Within the Administrative County there are 24 entire Rural Districts. The aggregate population of these is 302,906 which represents 31·5 per cent. of the entire population of the County.

CIVIL
TABLE 11.

The number of Civil Parishes within the Administrative County is 419, and there are 8 in the City and County Borough of Canterbury.

REGISTRATION
DISTRICTS.
TABLE 12.

The Registration County of Kent contains a population of 935,144, and is divided into 26 Registration Districts, and these are again sub-divided into 61 Sub-Districts. In Table 12, besides comparative figures of houses and of population in 1891 and 1901, a column is given to show the number of Families or Separate Occupiers in each Registration District and Sub-District, and in each Civil Parish. These amount to 195,238, giving an average of nearly 4·8 persons to a family as compared with 4·4 in London. It may here be stated, though the figures are not presented in Tabular form, that the population of Kent, as shown in the Tables, includes a total of 1,467 persons—866 Males and 601 Females—who were enumerated as having passed the Census night in Barns, Sheds, Caravans, etc.

TENEMENTS.
TABLE 19.

The total number of separate Tenements in the Administrative County together with the City of Canterbury, which had been 167,621 in 1891, rose to 200,819, in 1901, the increase being equal to 19·8 per cent. Of this total, the Tenements containing five or more rooms increased from 115,424 to 147,590, equal to 27·9 per cent., while those with less than five rooms increased from 52,197 to 53,229, or 2·0 per cent. Stated in another way, the Tenements with five or more rooms were equal to 68·9 per cent. of the Total Tenements in 1891, and increased to 73·5 per cent. at the recent Census, while the percentage of the Tenements with less than five rooms declined from 31·1 to 26·5. A considerable decrease is shown in the number of Tenements in which more than two people per room were enumerated. Thus the number of one-roomed Tenements, each containing more than two persons decreased from 535 to 393; the number of two-roomed Tenements, each containing more than four persons, from 633 to 553; the number of three-roomed Tenements, each containing more than six persons, from 695 to 595, and the number of four-roomed Tenements, each containing more than eight persons, from 1,451 to 1,102.

In the aggregate of Urban Districts the proportion of Tenements with less than five rooms to the total number of Tenements is 24·4 per cent., and in the aggregate of Rural Districts, it is 30·8 per cent.

The proportion of Tenements with less than five Rooms, which averages 26·5 per cent. in the entire Administrative County ranges from 19·0 in Maidstone, 20·4 in Gillingham and 20·7 in Margate, to 36·0 in Penge, and 38·9 in Erith.

TENEMENTS
DISTRICTS.

Table 22 shows the increase or decrease of population in the Registration County and Registration Districts as compared with the difference between registered Births and Deaths: the Table has been extended by the addition of a column showing the balance of change which must be ascribed to Migration. The increase of population in the Registration County since 1891, as calculated for the purposes of this Table (see footnote thereto), amounts to 128,671, and the excess of Births over Deaths to 92,841. It follows that the County has made a net gain by Migration of 35,830 persons. The Registration Districts where the gain by migration is most pronounced are Dartford, in which the increase of population is 27,349, made up of an excess of Births over Deaths of 10,256, and a gain by migration of 17,093, partly due to the presence in the district of several Institutions belonging to Metropolitan Authorities; and Medway, including Chatham, Gillingham, and Rochester, in which the increase in population is 22,107, made up of an excess of Births over Deaths of 10,177, and a gain by migration of 11,930.

MARRIAGES,
BIRTHS,
DEATHS, AND MIGRATION.
TABLE 22.

The Females enumerated in the Administrative County together with the City of Canterbury exceed the Males by 18,267; there are thus 1,039 Females to every 1,000 Males. The disproportion is not so great as in London, where there are 1,118 Females to 1,000 Males. The number of children of school age (three and under fourteen years) is 221,577, of whom 111,520 are boys, and 110,057 girls. It is to be observed, however, that the attendance at school of children under five is not compulsory. The number of children aged five and under fourteen years is 181,079, of whom 91,447 are boys and 89,632 girls.

SEXES AND AGES IN THE
ADMINISTRATIVE COUNTY
TOGETHER WITH THE COUNTY
BOROUGH.
TABLE 23.

The number of persons 65 years of age and upwards is 52,059, and of these 23,307 are Males and 28,752 Females. Of those who claim to be 100 years or upwards 4 are Females and 3 Males. The proportion of persons aged 65 years and upwards enumerated in Rural Districts is 6·6 per cent. of the total Rural population, while in the Urban Districts the proportion is 4·9 per cent. of the total Urban population.

Of the Males, 291,953 are Unmarried, 163,595 are Married, and 15,888 are Widowed. Of the Females, 289,295 are Unmarried, 165,686 are Married, and 34,722 are Widowed.

CONDITION AS TO MARRIAGE.
TABLE 27.

The following Table shows the percentages for 1891 and for 1901:—

Condition as to Marriage.	MALES.				FEMALES.
	To 100 at All Ages.		To 100 at Twenty years and upwards.		To 100 at All Ages.		To 100 at Twenty years and upwards.
	1891.	1901.	1891.	1901.	1891.	1901.	1891.	1901.
Unmarried	63·0	61·9	30·7	32·7	60·6	59·1	30·1	31·6
Married	33·6	34·7	62·9	61·3	32·4	33·8	57·5	56·5
Widowed... ..	3·4	3·4	6·4	6·0	7·0	7·1	12·4	11·9

The percentages in this Table for 1891 relate to the Registration County as then constituted, and those for 1901 to the Administrative County as constituted on the Census day. The difference of boundary between the two Counties although important does not materially affect the value of these figures for comparative purposes.

It may be noted from the figures that the proportions of the Married to the population at all ages is now higher than it was in 1891, owing to the decrease in the proportion of children through the decline in the birth-rate. The proportion of the Married, however, if calculated on the population aged upwards of twenty years, is distinctly lower than it was ten years ago, among both Males and Females.

AGES OF HUSBANDS
AND WIVES IN COMBINATION.
TABLE 29.

Table 29 shows the ages of both Husbands and Wives in Combination. In 148,588 cases in the Registration County both the Husband and the Wife were enumerated in the same schedule, and were therefore presumably living together; in addition there are 11,037 Husbands whose Wives were absent—that is, were not enumerated in the same schedule—and 12,975 Wives whose Husbands were absent on the Census night.

WORKHOUSES.
TABLE 30.

Pauper inmates of Workhouse Establishments in the Registration County number 7,388 persons at all ages, of whom 4,495 are Males and 2,893 Females. This represents approximately 0·79 per cent. of the general population; but at advanced ages the proportion is far higher. At 55 years and upwards the proportion per cent. of the population of the same age in Workhouse Establishments is 3·6, and at 65 years and upwards 5·7 per cent.

PRISONS.
TABLE 31.

Prisoners in Local and Convict Prisons in the Registration County number 563 against 1,505 in 1891, the reduction being chiefly due to the closing of the Chatham Convict Prison in 1892. Of these, 514 are Males, and 49 Females. Their ages and civil conditions are shown in Table 31.

OCCUPATIONS.
TABLE 32.

The Tables dealing with the occupations of the people have been extended and elaborated. Table 32 contains a list of 379 occupations, and shows the number of Males and Females employed in each. In this and succeeding Tables, Females are separately given as Unmarried and Married or Widowed. A tabular note furnishes information as to ages and other occupational details for industries of special importance in the County.

The following figures give a summary view of the Occupational statistics for the County of Kent, showing the proportions of Males and Females, over 10 Years of age, engaged in each Order, and also the proportions Unoccupied:—

Certain changes in the method of classification and in the mode of filling up the Schedules, resulting in greater accuracy of definition of employment, affect the numbers in many occupational headings for the purpose of comparison with the results of the Census taken in 1891. The following have, however, been selected, and in some cases thrown into groups, for comparison, so as to illustrate the progression or retrogression of some of the leading industries of the County. Figures showing the total population over 10 Years of age by sexes, with rate per cent. of increase, head the Table, so as to afford a ready means of comparing the distribution and occupational movement of the people in various industries with the growth of population between the two Censuses. The figures for 1901 in the following Table relate to the Registration County to secure accuracy of comparison with those for 1891; they are consequently not identical with the figures given in Table 32, which relate to the Administrative County.

In 1891 the percentage of the total population aged 10 Years and upwards engaged in occupations in the Registration County was, in the case of Males 79·7, in the case of Females 29·7; and in 1901 the percentages are 81·4 and 27·8 respectively. In the Administrative County (together with the City and County Borough of Canterbury) the rates in 1901 are 81·3 for Males and 28·0 for Females.

It has already been stated that Females have been abstracted separately as “Unmarried,” and “Married or Widowed.” Of the 108,914 Females over 10 Years of age engaged in occupations, 86,428, or 79 per cent., are in the former category, and 22,486, or 21 per cent., in the latter. Laundry and Washing Service finds employment for 4,625 Married or Widowed Females; Dressmaking, Shirtmaking, Millinery, and Staymaking for 2,320; and Domestic Indoor Service for 3,311. There are also 2,001 Charwomen Married or Widowed out of a total of 2,464.

The total number of Boys aged 10 and under 14 Years in the Administrative County is 40,872, and of these 2,558, equal to 6·3 per cent., are engaged in Occupations. Domestic Indoor Service finds employment for 248 Boys and 421 Girls under the age of 14 Years; 813 Boys are Messengers, Porters, etc. (of whom 82 are in Government employ), and 494 are Agricultural Labourers, Farm Servants; while 52 Girls are engaged in Millinery, Dressmaking, and Shirtmaking.

The total number of Males returned as "Pensioned" or "Retired," other than Army and Navy Officers, Clergymen, and members of the Medical Profession, is 11,760, being in the proportion of 3·9 per cent. to the number engaged in Occupations, as compared with 7,909, or 3·3 per cent., in 1891. The number of "Retired" Males enumerated in Workhouses and Workhouse Infirmaries who returned their previous Occupations is 2,263, and those in Lunatic Asylums 2,004, making a total of 4,267. Of "Pensioned" or "Retired" Males, 6,556, or 55·7 per cent., are aged 65 Years and upwards, and 2,726 or 23·2 per cent., are between 55 and 65, while 2,478, or 21·1 per cent., are under 55 years of age. (See note at head of Table 34.)

The total number of "Pensioned" or "Retired" Females is 2,814, being in the proportion of 2·6 per cent. to the number engaged in Occupations, as compared with 2,021, or 2·2 per cent., in 1891. The number in Workhouses and Workhouse Infirmaries is 626, and in Lunatic Asylums 1,139, making a total of 1,765. Of "Pensioned" or "Retired" Females, 1,254, being 44·6 per cent., are aged 65 Years and upwards, and 547, or 19·4 per cent., are between 55 and 65, leaving 1,013, or 36·0 per cent. under 55.

It is noteworthy that, among the Retired Males, there were enumerated in Workhouse Establishments and Lunatic Asylums 1,181 of the 1,257 General Labourers; 620 of the 730 Agricultural Labourers, Farm Servants; 138 of the 193 Boot, Shoe and Slipper Makers; and 116 of the 161 Bricklayers, and Bricklayers' Labourers. TABLE 35.

Table 35 sets forth the Occupations of the People by Sexes and in five groups of Ages for the City and County Borough of Canterbury, for the Aggregate of the Urban Districts in the County, including County, and Municipal Boroughs, and for the Aggregate of Rural Districts. The total population, over 10 Years of age, of Unmarried and of Married or Widowed Females, and the number of each class engaged in Occupations are given separately.

TABLE 35A.

Table 35A is a new Table and is so constructed as to show for every Urban District with a population exceeding 5,000 the following Statistics:—

1. The total population, Male and Female, of an age to engage in Occupations, that is, over ten years;
2. The number who are retired or unoccupied;
3. The total number engaged in Occupations;
4. The number engaged in Occupations or groups of Occupations selected so as best to illustrate the prevailing Industries of the County;
5. The number of Children between ten and fourteen years of age engaged in Occupations;
6. The proportion per cent. of Children so engaged to the total Child Population within those years;
7. The number of Unmarried Women and of Married or Widowed Women engaged in Occupations;
8. The proportion of Female Domestic Servants—not including those in Hotels, etc.—to a hundred Separate Occupiers or Families.

The following figures, extracted from Table 35A, show for the City and County Borough of Canterbury, and for each of the Municipal Boroughs and Urban Districts having populations in excess of 20,000 certain details of Occupational Statistics directly bearing on the Social Life of the People:—

	FEMALES AGED 10 YEARS AND UPWARDS.		Males aged 10 and under 14 Years.	Females aged 10 and under 14 Years.	Domestic Indoor Servants. Proportion per cent. to Total number of Separate Occupiers or Families.

For similar details for other Urban Districts reference should be made to Table 35A.

Of the 935,855 persons enumerated in the Extra-Metropolitan part of the Ancient County of Kent 618,846 were born within that area: 92,506 were born in London, being an increase of 23,029 since 1891; 10,741 were born in Ireland, an increase of 2,586; 8,802 in Scotland, an increase of 2,407; 7,446 in British Colonies or Dependencies, an increase of 1,464; and 4,911 in Wales and Monmouthshire, an increase of 1,546.

BIRTHPLACES.

Persons of Foreign birth number 7,073, an increase of 2,119, and of these 2,479 were abstracted as British Subjects, 269 as Naturalised British Subjects, and 4,325 as Foreigners; an increase in the case of the last-named of 598 since 1891. British Subjects and Naturalised British Subjects number together 2,748, and contrast with a total of 1,227 in 1891. This wide difference seems to be mainly due to the new instruction on the Census Schedule that persons born abroad should state whether they were British Subjects, Naturalised British Subjects, or Foreign Subjects. Greater accuracy has thus been secured, but the figures have less value for comparison with those in 1891.

Of the 4,325 Foreigners, 2,763 are Males and 1,562 Females; there are thus to every 1,000 Males no more than 565 Females, which last figure contrasts with 1,039 in the general population of the County.

TABLE 37.

The number of persons returned as Blind is 594, and of these 48 also suffer from some other Infirmary. The former figure compares with 557 in 1891.

THE BLIND,
THE DEAF AND DUMB, THE
DEAF, AND
THE INSANE.
TABLE 38.

Deaf and Dumb persons, including 42 who are returned simply as Dumb, number 545 against 536 in 1891. Of these 545 persons, 28 who are returned as Deaf and Dumb, and 7 as Dumb only suffer from some other Infirmary.

Lunatics now number 4,813, including 18 afflicted with some other Infirmary; and the Imbecile and Feeble-minded 3,225, including 50 otherwise afflicted. The total of these classes is 8,038, against 5,504 in 1891. In comparing these figures, however, attention must be paid to the fact that the increase shown by the numbers for 1901 is largely attributable to the erection of an Asylum at Dartford Heath by the London County Council, also that the heading to the Infirmities Column of the Census Schedule was not uniform at the two Censuses. In 1891 the words adopted were, "Lunatic, Imbecile or Idiot," and this expression might have led to more frequent concealment of cases of mental derangement than the form of words adopted for the recent Census, when Occupiers were instructed to describe the afflicted person either under the title of "Lunatic," or under that of "Imbecile Feeble-minded." For these reasons a calculation of the increase per cent. on the population would be misleading. It may be noted that, of the 8,037 persons returned as mentally deranged, 7,227 were inmates of Institutions, including 6,823 in Public and Private Lunatic Asylums, and 404 in Workhouses; the remaining 810 were residing with relatives or in unlicensed houses.

Of the 404 mentally deranged persons enumerated in Workhouses, 24 were returned as Lunatics and 380 as Imbecile or Feeble-minded; and of the 810 not enumerated in Institutions, 41 were returned as Lunatics, and 769 as Imbecile or Feeble-minded.

TABLE 11.—CIVIL PARISHES in the ADMINISTRATIVE COUNTY and in the CITY and COUNTY BOROUGH OF CANTERBURY.—INHABITED HOUSES 1901, and POPULATION 1891 and 1901.

NOTE.—The expression "Civil Parish" means "a place for which a separate Poor Rate is or can be made, or for which a separate Overseer is or can be appointed." The Parishes are arranged alphabetically, those having compound names being placed in the order indicated by the usual pronunciation of those names—thus Great Chart will be found under the letter G, and North Cray under the letter N. The Registration Districts of the County of Kent are all co-extensive with the Poor Law Unions or Parishes of the same names.

TABLE 12.—REGISTRATION COUNTY, DISTRICTS, and SUB-DISTRICTS, with their constituent CIVIL PARISHES.—AREA; HOUSES and POPULATION 1891 and 1901, and SEPARATE OCCUPIERS 1901.

EXPLANATORY NOTES.

- (1.) The Registration Districts of the County of Kent are all co-extensive with the Poor Law Unions or Parishes of the same names.
- (2.) Where the name of the Registration County in which a Parish is situated differs from that of the Administrative County, the name of the latter is added in italics; the names of County Boroughs are also stated after the names of the Parishes situated therein. The differences between the Registration County and the Administrative County are shown in Table 2.
- (3.) Parishes that are situated in a County Borough, Municipal Borough, or Urban District are distinguished by black type thus—Chislehurst.
- (4.) The places named in footnotes as being included in Civil Parishes are generally localities having no defined boundaries, such as hamlets, villages, etc.
- (5.) For particulars of existing detached parts of Civil Parishes see Table 13; and for changes in the boundaries of Civil Parishes effected by the Local Government Acts of 1888 and 1891, and by Local Acts since 1891, see Table 14. In all Districts and Sub-Districts marked + changes were made in boundaries between the Census of 1891 and that of 1901. Full particulars of the alterations have been published in the Registrar-General's Annual Reports.
- (6.) Revised areas of Civil Parishes have been furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department; for the area of the tidal water and foreshore comprised in Civil Parishes see Table 15.

NOTE.—The Table is to be read as follows :—Of the 200,819 tenements, 53,229 were tenements of less than five rooms, and of these 3,692 were tenements of one room, 7,891 of two rooms, etc.; and of the 3,692 tenements of one room, 2,418 were occupied by one person each, 851 by two persons each, etc. Tables 20 and 21 are to be read in a similar manner.

* In 1891 the Tenements were abstracted for the Registration County; in order to make the figures for that area comparable with those for the aggregate of the Administrative County together with the City and County Borough of Canterbury in 1901 it has been necessary to make approximate adjustments.

* Changes were made in the boundaries of some of the Registration Districts during the intercensal period. In the Table the enumerated populations of every such District for 1891 and 1901 are given—first for the District as constituted at the Census of 1891, and then for the District as constituted by each successive change. The dates from which the changed areas were adopted for tabulation of Births and Deaths are shown in the first column. In calculating the Increase or Decrease of Population (Col. 7) approximate allowance has been made for variations caused by changes of boundary. Owing to this method of calculation, the increase of population shown in Col. 7 differs fractionally from that derivable from the figures for the entire County in Table 1 and for the individual Registration Districts in Table 12 which relate to those areas as constituted at the time of the Census of 1901.

Of the foregoing, 6 Males and 4 Females were returned in 1901 as "Persons suffering from Combined Infirmities from Childhood."

* The figures given for 1891 relate to the County of Kent as then constituted for Registration purposes, while those for 1901 relate to the Administrative County, together with the City and County Borough of Canterbury. The differences in the boundaries of the two areas are not of sufficient importance to materially affect the figures for purposes of comparison.

† Of the 545 Persons in 1901 classified in the Table as Deaf and Dumb, 18 Males and 24 Females, respectively, were returned simply as "Dumb," as were also 6 Males and 11 Females classified as Deaf and Dumb from Childhood. The figures regarding the Deaf and Dumb from Childhood are based on the descriptions given in the Schedules, and must be regarded as incomplete.

‡ The Census Schedule did not require persons who were Deaf without being Dumb to mention the fact of their Deafness, and therefore the figures given for the "Deaf" cannot be regarded as complete.

§ In 1891 the heading of the Census Schedule was "Lunatic, Imbecile, or Idiot," and the persons so returned were eventually classed as "Mentally Deranged." In 1901 the heading of the Schedule provided for two categories of the Mentally Deranged, viz., "Lunatic," and "Imbecile, Feeble-minded," and in drawing comparisons from the figures for the two Censuses, allowance must be made for these differences. The figures for 1891 for the new sub-divisions of Mentally Deranged cannot therefore be given. Total "Lunatic, Imbecile, and Feeble-minded," 1901:—3,033 Persons, 3,953 Males, 4,030 Females. Total "Mentally Deranged," 1891:—5,504 Persons, 2,610 Males, 2,894 Females. The increase shown by the numbers for 1901 is largely attributable to the erection, by the London County Council, of an Asylum at Dartford Heath in which 1,886 Lunatics were enumerated.

¶ Of these the following persons were returned as under:—

NOTE.—The considerable number of persons who were returned as "Lunatic" or as "Imbecile, Feeble-minded" in the area administered by the Kent County Council is augmented by the presence therein of Institutions not controlled by that body, and occupied by persons not belonging to the County. Thus, of the 7,997 Lunatic and Imbecile or Feeble-minded, 4,339 were resident in Lunatic or Imbecile Asylums, in the Registration District of Dartford, under the management of the Corporation of the City of London, the London County Council, and the Metropolitan Asylums Board.

* These figures include 18 Males and 24 Females returned simply as "Dumb."

† These persons are also included in the totals of the several Infirmities from which they suffer. Those so afflicted "from Childhood" numbered 10.

CENSUS OF 1901.

COUNTY OF LANCASTER.

SUMMARY OF THE CENSUS RESULTS.

THE Ancient or Geographical County of Lancaster, which is a County Palatine, contains, according to revised returns furnished by His Majesty's Ordnance Survey Department, an area of 1,203,365 statute acres. Its population numbers 4,406,409 persons. In 1801 the population was 673,486; it has, therefore, increased during the Century nearly seven-fold. The highest intercensal rate of increase (27·1 per cent.) occurred in the decennial period terminating in 1821. A marked rise took place in the period 1871-81: but, with this exception the rate has declined ever since 1821. The lowest rate of increase (12·2 per cent.) occurred in the intercensal period just concluded.

POPULATION.
TABLES 1, 2,
AND 3.

The Administrative County, together with 15 County Boroughs, contains an area of 1,196,753 statute acres, and a population of 4,387,043, against 3,907,370 in 1891, an increase of 12·3 per cent.; the number of Inhabited Houses is 882,753, against 760,498 in 1891, an increase of 16·1 per cent.; of uninhabited houses the number is 66,878, against 58,711 in 1891, an increase of 13·9 per cent.; and of houses building, 7,585, against 5,184 in 1891, an increase of 46·3 per cent. Of the 66,878 uninhabited houses, 32,939 are "In Occupation," that is, utilised for business or other purposes, but without inmates on Census night.

The Registration County contains an area of 1,299,816 acres, and a population of 4,437,518. The differences between the Ancient, the Administrative, and the Registration County are set forth in Table 2. The respective boundaries of the Administrative and Registration County are delineated on the Map attached.

Where comparative figures are quoted, those for 1891 generally relate to areas as constituted in 1901.

The 4 Divisions of the Ancient County of Lancaster, viz., North Lancashire, North East Lancashire, South East Lancashire, and South West Lancashire, are sub-divided for Parliamentary purposes into 23 Constituencies. The County also includes the Parliamentary Boroughs of Barrow in Furness, Blackburn, Bolton, Burnley, Bury, Liverpool, Manchester, Oldham, Preston, Rochdale, St. Helens, Salford, and Wigan, and parts of Ashton under Lyne, Stalybridge, Stockport, and Warrington. The Cities of Liverpool and Manchester and the Borough of Salford contain 9, 6, and 3 Divisions respectively, while Blackburn, Bolton, Oldham, and Preston are undivided Constituencies, each returning 2 Members. The following Constituencies, each returning a single Member, have populations exceeding 100,000:—

In 1891 no single-member constituency in Lancashire contained a population exceeding 100,000.

There are 787 Ecclesiastical Parishes or Districts situated wholly or partly within the Ancient County of Lancaster. Of these 787 Parishes, or parts of Parishes, 537, with an aggregate population of 2,948,671, are within the Diocese of Manchester; 199, with a population of 1,352,419, in that of Liverpool; 46, with a population of 100,485, in that of Carlisle; 2, with a population of 1,384, in that of Ripon; 2, with a population of 951, in that of Chester; and part of the Parish of Harley Wood, All Saints, with a population of 2,499, in that of Wakefield.

CAL PARISHES.

ADMINISTRATIVE COUNTY AND COUNTY BOROUGH. TABLE 6.

The Administrative County contains a population of 1,827,436, and the 15 County Boroughs contain a population of 2,559,607, the aggregate population thus amounting to 4,387,043. The increase in the Administrative County since 1891, apart from the County Boroughs, is 262,740, or 16·8 per cent.; in the County Boroughs 216,933, or 9·3 per cent.; and in the total population 479,673, or 12·3 per cent.

PETTY SESSIONAL DIVISIONS. TABLE 7.

The Administrative County has one Court of Quarter Sessions, and is divided into 33 Petty Sessional Divisions. All the County Boroughs have separate Commissions of the Peace, and 8 have separate Courts of Quarter Sessions. Thirteen other Municipal Boroughs have also separate Commissions of the Peace.

AGGREGATES OF URBAN AND RURAL DISTRICTS. TABLE 8.

The population of Urban Districts, including County and Municipal Boroughs, amounts to 4,154,571, and that of Rural Districts, to 232,472. The population in the Urban Districts has increased by 465,865, or 12·6 per cent., since 1891, and that in the Rural Districts by 13,808, or 6·3 per cent.

COUNTY BOROUGH, MUNICIPAL BOROUGH, AND OTHER URBAN DISTRICTS. TABLE 9.

The County contains 15 County Boroughs, 19 Municipal Boroughs, which are not County Boroughs, and 98 other Urban Districts. The following Table shows the increase of population since 1891 in each County Borough, as constituted on the Census day:—

COUNTY BOROUGH.	POPULATION.		Increase per cent.	COUNTY BOROUGH.	POPULATION.		Increase per cent.
	1891.	1901.			1891.	1901.

Wigan	55,013	60,764	10·5

In none of the County Boroughs has the increase of population reached 20 per cent.; but in some of the Municipal Boroughs and Urban Districts progress has been much more rapid. The following list shows the Towns, arranged in the order of growth, where the population has increased during the intercensal period by more than 50 per cent.:—

	1891.	1901.	Increase per cent.		1891.	1901.	Increase per cent.
Heysham	766	3,381	341·4	Morecambe	6,500	11,798	81·5
Thornton	996	3,108	212·0	Gorton	15,215	26,564	74·6
St. Anne's on the Sea ...	2,588	6,838	164·2	Urmston	4,042	6,594	63·1
Litherland	4,441	10,592	138·5	Preesall with Hackinsall ...	896	1,423	58·8
Levenshulme	5,506	11,485	108·6	Poulton le Fylde ...	1,412	2,223	57·4
Blackpool	23,846	47,348	98·6	Lytham	4,656	7,185	54·3

There are, in addition, 23 Municipal Boroughs or Urban Districts having in each case an increase in population exceeding 20 per cent. On the other hand, in 17 cases a decrease of population is recorded, but in no instance does this decrease assume considerable proportions. The following are the Towns of most importance in this latter category:—

	1891.	1901.	Decrease per cent.		1891.	1901.	Decrease per cent.
Mossley	14,162	13,452	5·0	Bacup	23,498	22,505	4·2
Widnes	30,011	28,580	4·8	Dalton in Furness ...	13,300	13,020	2·1
Ramsbottom	16,726	15,920	4·8	Whitworth	9,766	9,578	1·9

On the whole, it is apparent that increase of population is less rapid in the great towns, and more rapid among comparatively small urban communities.

RURAL DISTRICTS. TABLE 10.

There are 19 Rural Districts within the Administrative County, containing an aggregate population of 232,472. This represents no more than 5·3 per cent. of the entire population of the County: in certain cases the Rural Districts are largely suburban in character.

CIVIL PARISHES. TABLE 11.

The number of Civil Parishes within the Administrative County is 405, and in the County Boroughs 25. In some cases the population is very diminutive; in the Parishes of Heyhouses and Holleth only 23 and 25 persons respectively were enumerated on the Census night. On the other hand, in the Parishes of Southport and Blackpool the populations were 48,083 and 47,348 respectively. The most populous Parishes in the County Boroughs are South Manchester and North Manchester, in the City of Manchester, containing 241,715 and 169,841 persons respectively.

The Registration County of Lancaster contains a population of 4,437,518, and is divided into 30 Registration Districts (all of which are co-extensive with Poor Law Parishes or Unions of the same names), and 166 Sub-Districts. In Table 12, besides comparative figures of houses and of population in 1891 and 1901, a column is given to show the number of Families or Separate Occupiers in each Registration District, Sub-District, and Civil Parish. These amounted to 925,348, giving an average of nearly 4·8 persons to a family, as compared with 4·4 in London. It may here be stated, though the figures are not presented in Tabular form, that the population includes a total of 854 persons—454 Males and 400 Females—who were enumerated as having passed the night of March 31st in Barns, Sheds, Caravans, etc.

REGISTRATION
DISTRICTS.
TABLE 12.

The total number of separate Tenements in the Administrative County, together with the County Boroughs, which had been 784,729 in 1891, rose to 913,581 in 1901, the increase being equal to 16·4 per cent. Of this total, the Tenements containing five or more rooms increased from 359,201 to 461,215, equal to 28·4 per cent., while the increase of those with less than five rooms was from 425,528 to 452,366, and did not exceed 6·3 per cent. The rate of increase in the larger Tenements was therefore nearly five times as great as that in the smaller Tenements. Stated in another way, the Tenements with five or more rooms were equal to 45·8 per cent. of the total Tenements in 1891, and to 50·5 per cent. at the recent Census, while the percentage of the Tenements with less than five rooms declined from 54·2 to 49·5. The number of single-roomed Tenements has undergone no sensible change, but the proportion to the total Tenements is small, no more than 1·6 per cent. against 1·9 in 1891; whereas in London the proportion in 1901 is 14·7 per cent. Tenements with two rooms have decreased from 61,007 to 49,977, or 18·1 per cent., and Tenements with three rooms from 49,132 to 43,145, or 12·2 per cent. It may further be pointed out that a marked decrease is shown in the number of one, two, and three-roomed Tenements in which two or more people per room were enumerated. Thus the number of one-roomed Tenements containing more than two persons decreased from 5,007 to 4,256, the number of two-roomed Tenements containing more than four persons, from 16,004 to 10,277, and the number of three-roomed Tenements containing more than six persons, from 8,704 to 6,437.

TENEMENTS
TABLE 19.

In the aggregate of Urban Districts the proportion of Tenements with less than five rooms to the total number of Tenements is 50·2 per cent., and in the aggregate of Rural Districts, it is 37·3 per cent. Tenements of only one room average 1·7 per cent. of the total in the Urban Districts, and 0·2 per cent. in the Rural. Of two-roomed Tenements the proportions are 5·6 per cent. and 3·2 per cent., and of three-roomed Tenements they are 4·7 per cent. and 5·2 per cent. respectively.

The proportion of Tenements with less than five rooms, which average 49·5 per cent. in the entire Administrative County, show considerable variations in the County Boroughs. The proportion is equal to 43·9 per cent. in Liverpool and 54·6 in Manchester, while in the other County Boroughs it ranges from 31·2 and 33·8 per cent. in Bootle and Barrow in Furness, to 69·4 in Rochdale, 69·7 in Bury, and 73·3 in Oldham. Among County Boroughs the percentage of single-roomed Tenements, which averages 1·6 in the entire Administrative County, is largest in Liverpool, where it is equal to 6·1.

TENEMENTS
IN COUNTY
BOROUGH, MUNICIPAL BOROUGH,
AND OTHER
URBAN
DISTRICTS.
TABLE 20.

Among Municipal Boroughs and the larger Urban Districts with populations exceeding 20,000, the proportion to total Tenements of Tenements having less than five rooms exceeds two-thirds, or 66·6 per cent., in Ashton under Lyne, Bacup, Chadderton, Heywood, Ince in Makerfield, and Radcliffe. On the other hand, the proportion is below one-third, or 33·3 per cent., in Blackpool, Eccles, Lancaster, Leigh, Moss Side, Southport, Stretford, Waterloo with Seaforth, and Withington.

MARRIAGES,
BIRTHS,
DEATHS, AND MIGRATION.
TABLE 22.

Table 22 shows the increase or decrease of population in the Registration County and Registration Districts as compared with the difference between registered Births and Deaths: the table has been extended by the addition of a column showing the balance of change which must be ascribed to migration. The increase of population in the Registration County since 1891 amounts to 477,368,* and the excess of births over deaths to 436,417. It follows that the County has made a net gain by migration of 40,951 persons. Leaving out of account Prestwich, the figures for which are largely affected by deaths in Public Institutions (see Note at the head of the Table), the Registration Districts where the gain by migration is most pronounced are: Fylde, including the Borough of Blackpool, in which the total increase of population is 37,380, made up of an excess of births over deaths of 7,132 and a gain by migration of 30,248; and West Derby, including a considerable part of the City of Liverpool, in which the total increase of population is 85,280, caused by an excess of births over deaths of 63,949, and a gain by migration of 21,331. On the other hand, the Manchester Registration District (the older part of that City) with an excess of births over deaths amounting to 13,028, shows a reduction of 12,784 in total population, having thus lost 25,812 by migration; this, however, is partly due to the transference of Paupers to the Manchester Union Workhouse, situated in Prestwich District.

SEXES AND AGES IN THE
ADMINISTRATIVE COUNTY
TOGETHER WITH COUNTY
BOROUGH.
TABLE 23.

The Females enumerated in the Administrative County and County Boroughs exceed the Males by 171,833; there are 1,082 Females to every 1,000 Males. The disproportion is not so great as in London, where there are 1,118 Females to 1,000 Males. The number of children of school age (three and under fourteen years) is 1,019,043, of whom 505,431 are boys and 513,612 girls. It is to be observed, however, that the attendance at school of children under five is not compulsory. The number of children aged five and under fourteen years is 823,914, of whom 408,462 are boys and 415,452 girls.

The number of persons 65 years of age and upwards is 144,852, and of these 60,864 are Males and 83,988 Females; of those who claim to be 100 years and upwards, 6 are Females and 4 Males. The proportion of persons aged 65 years and upwards enumerated in Rural Districts is 4·8 per cent. of the total population, as against 3·2 per cent. in Urban Districts.

CONDITION AS TO MARRIAGE.
TABLE 27.

Of the Males, 1,285,881 are Unmarried, 745,883 are Married, and 75,841 are Widowed. Of the Females, 1,341,861 are Unmarried, 763,136 are Married, and 174,441 are Widowed.

The following Table shows the percentages for 1891 and for 1901:—

Condition as to Marriage.	MALES.				FEMALES.
	To 100 at All Ages.		To 100 at Twenty years and upwards.		To 100 at all Ages.		To 100 at Twenty years and upwards.
	1891.	1901.	1891.	1901.	1891.	1901.	1891.	1901.
Unmarried	62·3	61·0	29·2	31·0	59·8	58·8	27·9	30·2
Married	34·3	35·4	64·3	62·6	32·5	33·5	58·2	56·8
Widowed	3·4	3·6	6·5	6·4	7·7	7·7	13·9	13·0

The percentages in this Table for 1891 relate to the Registration County as then constituted, and those for 1901 to the Administrative County as constituted on the Census day. The difference of boundary between the two Counties does not materially affect the value of the figures for comparative purposes.

It may be noted from the figures that the proportions of the Married to the population at all ages is now higher than it was in 1891, owing to the decrease in the proportion of children through the decline in the birth-rate. The proportion of the Married, however, if calculated on the population aged upwards of twenty years, is distinctly lower than it was ten years ago, among both Males and Females.

The number of Males under 21 returned as Married is 2,646, and the number of Females 8,671. There are also 18 Widowers and 47 Widows under 21 years of age.

* As calculated for the purposes of Table 22; see footnote to the Table.

There are in the Registration County 713,319 cases in which both the Husband and the Wife are enumerated in the same schedule, and are therefore presumably living together; and in addition there are 41,536 Husbands whose Wives were absent—that is, were not enumerated in the same schedule—and 59,065 Wives whose Husbands were absent on the Census night.

AGES OF HUSBANDS
AND WIVES IN COMBINATION.
TABLE 29.

Pauper Inmates of Workhouse Establishments in the Registration County numbered 30,084 persons at all ages, of whom 16,930 were Males and 13,154 Females. This represents approximately 0·7 per cent. of the general population, against 0·6 per cent. in 1891; but at advanced ages the proportion rapidly increases. At 55 years and upwards the proportion per cent. of the population in Workhouse Establishments is 3·6, and at 65 years and upwards, 5·8 per cent.

WORKHOUSES.
TABLE 30.

Prisoners in Local and Convict Prisons in the Registration County numbered 2,623, against 2,353 in 1891. Of these, 1,740 were Males, and 883 Females. Their ages and civil conditions are shown in Table 31.

PRISONS.
TABLE 31.

In view of the large population and of the exceptional complexity and importance of industries in the County of Lancaster, the Tables dealing with the occupations of the people have been extended and elaborated. Table 32 contains a list of 379 occupations divided into 10 age groups. A new column is provided showing the numbers of persons returned as working "At Home," and information is again furnished as to persons stated to be Employers, Working for Employers, or Working on Own Account. In this and succeeding Tables, Females are separately given as Unmarried and Married or Widowed.

In 1891 the percentage of the total population aged 10 Years and upwards engaged in occupations was, in the case of Males 86·4, in the case of Females 42·9. In 1901 the percentages are 85·8 and 38·7 respectively.

The numbers classed under any occupational heading at the two Censuses are affected by (1) Changes in the Method of Classification at the Census Office, (2) Changes in the Mode of filling up the Schedules, (3) Actual Changes in the Numbers of People following the several Occupations.

Care has been taken that the comparative figures given in the subjoined Table are vitiated as little as possible by either of the first two preceding considerations.

The changes of classification affecting the leading trades of Lancashire are mainly in the direction of sub-division. Thus Coal and Shale Miners are for the first time separately classed as "Hewers," "Other workers below ground," or "Workers above ground." Persons engaged in Iron Manufacture are abstracted as employed in "Blast Furnaces," in "Puddling Furnaces and Rolling Mills," in "Steel Smelting and Founding," in "Iron Founding," and in the manufacture of certain specific Iron articles. Workers in other Metals are separately described as Manufacturers of the Metal itself or of goods made from the Metal. Workers in Cotton Manufacture are sub-divided, so as to show whether they are engaged in "Card and Blowing Room Processes," in "Spinning Processes," in "Winding, Warping, etc., Processes," in "Weaving Processes," or in "Other or Undefined Processes." It must, however, be noted that the persistent efforts made, both before the Census was taken and subsequently by local enquiry, to secure completeness and accuracy of returns in these cases have only been partially successful. In some cases, for instance, the returns have not precisely stated whether a man is employed in a Blast Furnace or in a Rolling Mill, whether he is a Hewer in a Coal Mine or another Worker below ground, and the figures must consequently be regarded as approximate only.

While it is known whether or not any occupational heading or group is affected by a change in the method of classification, changes arising from the mode of filling up the Schedules are more difficult to detect. There should be (and, in fact, is) a tendency to return occupations more definitely and more correctly at each succeeding Census. This, while it increases the value of the later figures in themselves, impairs them for purposes of comparison with those for earlier Censuses. Thus, the number of "Merchants—commodity undefined," is reduced from 1,467 to 799; of General Labourers from 84,690 to 54,835; of Artizans, etc., undefined, from 9,928 to 3,032; and of Factory Labourers undefined, from 6,530 to 2,831. These reduced figures do not mean an actual reduction of Merchants or Labourers, but a transfer from the undefined to some specific heading. Hence the increase in some specified employments may be in part obtained at the expense of general and undefined occupations. From the very nature of things, the amount and direction of the transfer from one occupational heading to another in this way cannot be estimated with precision.

The following occupational headings have been selected, and in some cases thrown into groups, for comparison, so as to represent, with the smallest risk of error from alterations of classification or of methods of return, the progression or retrogression of the leading industries of the County. Figures showing the total population over 10 years of age by sexes, with rate per cent. of increase, head the Table, so as to afford a ready means of comparing the distribution and occupational movement of the people in various industries with the growth of population between the two Censuses. The figures for 1891 relate to the Registration County, as then constituted, and those for 1901 to the Administrative County (together with the County Boroughs) as constituted on the Census day. The difference of boundary between the two Counties does not materially affect the value of the figures for comparative purposes.

		Boot, Shoe, Slipper, Patten, (Clog—Makers and Dealers ...)	15,942	16,830	+ 5.6	2,020	3,008	+ 48.9

In various industries, persons who work "At Home" have for the first time been required to state the fact. Of the Males working "At Home," 3,168 are Boot and Shoe Makers, 2,151 are Tailors, and 1,003 Patten, Clog—Makers. Of the Females working "At Home," 22,390 are Dressmakers, Staymakers, Milliners, Shirtmakers and Seamstresses; 4,394 are engaged in Laundry and Washing Service, and 1,733 are Tailors.

It has already been stated that Females have been abstracted separately as "Unmarried," and "Married or Widowed." Of the 694,091 Females over 10 Years of age engaged in occupations, 527,400, or 76 per cent., are in the former category, and 166,691, or 24 per cent., in the latter. The proportion of Married or Widowed Females engaged in Occupations is slightly above that of London, where the percentage reached 23.7. Among the Occupations in which Married or Widowed Females are principally engaged, are Cotton Weaving with 38,055; Cotton Winding and Warping with 12,998; Cotton Carding with 10,096; Cotton Spinning with 4,288. There are altogether 67,227 Married or Widowed Females engaged in Cotton Manufacture, as compared with 207,146 Unmarried.

Laundry and Washing Service finds employment for 7,500 Married or Widowed Females; Domestic Service for 13,297; and Dressmaking, Shirtmaking, Millinery and Stay-making for 10,863. There are also 13,924 Charwomen Married or Widowed out of a total of 18,252.

The total number of Boys aged 10 and under 14 Years in the Administrative County is 177,562, and of these 28,736, equal to 16.2 per cent., are engaged in Occupations. Of the occupied Males between the ages of 10 and 14 years 20,927, or 72.8 per cent., are aged between 13 and 14; 7,422, or 25.8 per cent., between 12 and 13; 277, or 1.0 per cent., between 11 and 12; and 110, or 0.4 per cent., are between 10 and 11.

The total number of Girls aged from 10 to 14 is 180,785, and of these 21,893, equal to 12.1 per cent., are engaged in Occupations. Of the occupied Females between the ages of 10 and 14 years 15,481, or 70.7 per cent., are aged between 13 and 14; 6,240, or 28.5 per cent., between 12 and 13; 116, or 0.5 per cent., between 11 and 12; and 56, or 0.3 per cent., are between 10 and 11.

These figures contrast with a total of 5,876, or 3.5 per cent. of the total number of Boys, and with 2,381, or 1.4 per cent., of the total number of Girls, at the same ages in London.

Cotton Manufacture finds employment for 12,158 Boys and 16,347 Girls under the age of 14 years; Wool and Worsted Manufacture for 333 Boys and 342 Girls; Textile Bleaching, Printing and Dyeing for 996 Boys and 226 Girls; Coal and Shale Mining below ground for 1,006 Boys and above ground for 343; Engineering and Machine Making for 794

OF "PEN-SIONED AND

The total number of Males returned as "Pensioned" or "Retired," other than Army and Navy Officers, Clergymen, and members of the Medical Profession, is 33,569, being in the proportion of 2·4 per cent. to the number engaged in Occupations, as compared with 23,048, or 1·9 per cent., in 1891. The number of "Retired" Males enumerated in Workhouses and Workhouse Infirmaries who returned their previous Occupations is 7,254, and those in Lunatic Asylums 3,615, making a total of 10,869. Of "Pensioned" or "Retired" Males, 17,926, or 53·4 per cent., were aged 65 Years and upwards, and 9,311, or 27·7 per cent., were between 55 and 65, while 6,332, or 18·9 per cent., were under 55 Years of age. (See note at head of Table 34.)

The total number of "Pensioned" or "Retired" Females is 12,500, being in the proportion of 1·8 per cent. to the number engaged in Occupations, as compared with 10,561, or 1·6 per cent., in 1891. The number in Workhouses and Workhouse Infirmaries is 3,840, and in Lunatic Asylums 2,436, making a total of 6,276. Of "Pensioned" or "Retired" Females, 5,876, being 47·0 per cent., are aged 65 Years and upwards, and 3,174, or 25·4 per cent., are between 55 and 65, leaving 3,450, or 27·6 per cent., under 55.

It is noteworthy that, among the Retired Males, there were enumerated in Workhouse Establishments and Lunatic Asylums 1,990 of the 2,449 General Labourers, 505 of the 616 Dock Labourers, and 204 of the 332 Painters, Decorators and Glaziers. Among the Retired Females, there were enumerated in these Institutions 1,925 of the 2,577 Indoor Domestic Servants, 1,009 of the 1,108 Charwomen, and 1,612 of the 3,300 formerly employed in Cotton Manufacture.

Of the whole number of Retired Females, 4338 were Unmarried, and 8,162 were Married or Widowed.

TABLE 35.

Table 35 sets forth the Occupations of the People by Sexes and in five groups of Ages for each of the 15 County Boroughs, for the Aggregate of the Urban Districts in the County, including County and Municipal Boroughs, and for the Aggregate of Rural Districts. The total population, over ten years of age, of Unmarried and of Married or Widowed Females, and the number of each Class engaged in Occupations are given separately.

TABLE 35A.

This is a new Table and is so constructed as to show for every Urban District with a population exceeding 5,000 the following Statistics:—

1. The total population, Male and Female, of an age to engage in Occupations, that is, over ten years;
2. The number who are retired or unoccupied;
3. The total number engaged in Occupations;
4. The number engaged in Occupations or groups of Occupations selected so as best to illustrate the prevailing Industries of the County;
5. The number of Children between ten and fourteen years of age engaged in Occupations;
6. The proportion per cent. of Children so engaged to the total Child Population within those years.
7. The number of Unmarried Women, and of Married or Widowed Women engaged in Occupations;
8. The proportion of Female Domestic Servants—not including those in Hotels, etc.—to a hundred Separate Families or Occupiers.

The following figures extracted from Table 35A show for each of the fifteen County Boroughs certain details of Occupational Statistics directly bearing on the Social Life of the People:—

For similar details for other Urban Districts reference is made to Table 35A, but the nature of the more striking differences disclosed may be briefly indicated.

The proportions of Children per cent., aged 10-14 years, engaged in Occupations range as follows:—

Boys.—3.0 in Fulwood, 3.9 in Waterloo with Seaforth, 4.4 in Litherland and Withington, 4.6 in Urmston, and 4.7 in Liverpool, to 36.0 in Darwen, 36.2 in Haslingden and Royton, 36.3 in Rishton, 36.4 in Brierfield, 36.8 in Walton le Dale, 37.1 in Mossley, 37.5 in Milnrow, and 41.1 in Crompton.

Girls.—At the same ages, 0.7 in Widnes, 0.8 in Dalton in Furness and Urmston, 1.1 in Liverpool, 1.2 in Birkdale, 1.5 in Garston, and 1.7 in Levenshulme, to 36.6 in Walton le Dale, 37.6 in Darwen, 38.2 in Milnrow, 38.6 in Rishton, and 40.3 in Great Harwood.

Similarly, the proportion of Female Domestic Servants to every hundred families varies from 2.7 in Oswaldtwistle, 3.4 in Kearsley, and 3.5 in Brierfield, to 53.4 in St. Anne's on the Sea, 55.8 in Withington, and 72.5 in Great Crosby.

Of the 4,406,409 persons enumerated in the Ancient County of Lancaster, 3,410,356 were born within the County; 63,704 were born in Wales and Monmouthshire, being an increase of 2,885 since 1891; 56,746 in Scotland, an increase of 341; 145,301 in Ireland, a decrease of 19,188; 10,845 in British Colonies or Dependencies, an increase of 1,481; and 33,030 in London, an increase of 2,473.

BIRTHPLACES.

Persons of foreign birth, including those enumerated on vessels in port on Census night, number 40,781, an increase of 11,362, and of these 10,175 were abstracted as British Subjects, 2,003 as Naturalised British Subjects, and 28,603 as Foreigners; an increase in the case of the last-named of 3,494 since 1891. British Subjects and Naturalised British Subjects number together 12,178, and contrast with a total of 4,310 in 1891. This wide difference seems to be mainly due to the new instruction on the Census Schedule that persons born abroad should state whether they were British Subjects, Naturalised British Subjects or Foreign Subjects. Greater accuracy has thus been secured, but the figures have less comparative value.

The population of Liverpool includes 45,673 persons of Irish birth, and that of Manchester 19,838. Foreigners, on the other hand, number 11,737 in Manchester, as compared with 8,974 in Liverpool.

COUNTRY OF BIRTH OF FOREIGNERS.
TABLE 37.

Of the 28,603 Foreigners, 17,514 are Males and 11,089 Females; there are thus to every 1,000 Males no more than 633 Females, which last figure contrasts with 1,082 in the general population of the County. Natives of Russia have increased from 4,914 to 10,506 since the Census of 1891, while persons of German birth have decreased within the same period from 5,015 to 4,314. Natives of France have decreased from 1,112 to 805; natives of the United States of America from 3,367 to 2,300, and of other parts of the American Continent, not being British possessions, from 1,252 to 244; while natives of Austria have increased from 736 to 1,483, of Italy from 891 to 1,456, and of the Danubian Principalities from 356 to 1,003. Liverpool contains 3,124 Russians and 1,458 Germans, and Manchester 6,363 Russians, 1,319 Germans, and 965 Austrians.

AND COUNTRY
OF BIRTH OF FOREIGNERS.
TABLE 37B.

Out of a total of 17,514 Male and 11,089 Female Foreigners, 15,256 and 3,195 respectively are engaged in occupations.

Tailors number 2,540 Males and 567 Females, and of these Russia contributes the greater proportion—1,658 Males and 331 Females. There are 1,781 Seamen, and of these 390 are of Spanish, 371 of Norwegian, 220 of German, and 204 of Swedish birth. Cabinet Makers number 935 Males, and of these 670 are Russians and 105 Russian Poles. Hat and Cap making finds occupation for 393 Males and 397 Females, of whom a very large proportion—175 Males and 269 Females—are Russian. Female Domestic Servants number 770, of whom 292 are Germans, 95 natives of the United States, and 65 Swiss. There are 575 Male Commercial Clerks, of whom 208 are natives of Germany, 67 of Switzerland, and 43 of Turkey. The manufacture of Waterproof Goods occupies 506 Males and 60 Females, and of these 314 Males and 47 Females are Russian. Of the 642 Male and 36 Female Costermongers, 249 are Italians and 319 Russians. The total number of persons returned as Musicians is 308, of whom 158 are of Italian birth.

It is remarkable that only an insignificant number of Foreigners, 84 Males and 70 Females, engage in Cotton Manufacture—the staple industry of Lancashire—and of these 44 Males and 61 Females were born in the United States of America.

THE BLIND,
THE DEAF AND DUMB, THE
DEAF, AND
THE INSANE.
TABLE 38.

The number of persons returned as "Blind" is 3,363, and of these 91 also suffer from some other Infirmary. The former figure compares with 2,819 in 1891. There has therefore been an increase of 544 in the number of persons returned as "Blind." This is an increase from 0·07 per cent. of the population in 1891 to 0·08 per cent. of that in 1901.

Similarly, Deaf and Dumb persons, including 137 who are said to be Dumb only, number 2,064, as against 1,830 in 1891. These figures show an increase of 234, the percentage to population in 1891 and in 1901 remaining stationary. Of these 2,064 persons, 33 who are returned as Deaf and Dumb, and 29 as Dumb only, suffer also from some other Infirmary.

Lunatics now number 9,741, including 31 afflicted with some other Infirmary; and the Imbecile and Feeble-minded 6,337, including 69 otherwise afflicted. The total of these classes is 16,078, against 11,822 in 1891. In comparing these figures, however, attention must be paid to the fact that the heading to the Infirmities Column of the Census Schedule was not uniform at the two Censuses. In 1891 the words adopted were, "Lunatic, Imbecile, or Idiot," and this expression might have led to more frequent concealment of cases of mental derangement than the form of words adopted for the recent Census, when Occupiers were instructed to describe the afflicted person either under the title "Lunatic," or under that of "Imbecile, Feeble-minded." For this reason a calculation of the increase per cent. on the population would be misleading. It may be noted that of the 16,078 persons returned as mentally deranged, 13,045 were the inmates of Institutions, including 9,658 in Public and Private Lunatic Asylums and 3,308 in Workhouses; the remaining 3,033 were residing with relatives or in unlicensed houses.

Of the 3,308 mentally deranged persons enumerated in Workhouses, 859 were returned as Lunatics and 2,449 as Imbecile or Feeble-minded; and of the 3,033 not enumerated in Institutions, 109 were returned as Lunatics and 2,924 as Imbecile or Feeble-minded.

Of the 3,363 persons returned as Blind, 207 are under 10 Years of age, leaving 3,156 aged 10 Years and upwards. Of these, 2,212, being 70 per cent., are retired or unoccupied, and 944, or 30 per cent., are engaged in work. Males number 767, or 81·3 per cent. of the total Occupied Blind Persons, and Females 177, or 18·7 per cent. TABLE 10.—RURAL DISTRICTS.—AREA; HOUSES 1901, and POPULATION 1891 and 1901.

NOTE.—The following Poor Law Unions or Parishes and Registration Districts contain no Rural area :—Liverpool (453), Toxteth Park (454), Bolton (461), Chorlton (464), Salford (465), Manchester (466), Prestwich (467), Oldham (469), Rochdale (470), Haslingden (471), and Barrow in Furness (482); while the Poor Law Union and Registration District of Lunesdale contains no Urban District. Under the provisions of the Local Government Act, 1894, considerable changes were made in the constitution of Rural Districts. In Lancashire they comprise exclusively Parishes in Poor Law Unions of the same names, except Limehurst, Sefton, West Lancashire, and Whiston, which consist of the Rural Parishes in the Poor Law Unions of Ashton under Lyne, West Derby, Ormskirk, and Prescot respectively. The extent of each Rural District may readily be seen in the Map preceding the Tables.

TABLE 11.—CIVIL PARISHES in the ADMINISTRATIVE COUNTY and in 15 COUNTY BOROUGH.—INHABITED HOUSES 1901, and POPULATION 1891 and 1901.

NOTE.—The expression "Civil Parish" means "a place for which a separate Poor Rate is or can be made, or for which a separate Overseer is or can be appointed." The Parishes are arranged alphabetically, those having compound names being placed in the order indicated by the usual pronunciation of those names—thus Great Crosby will be found under the letter G, and Lower Allithwaite under the letter L. The Registration Districts in the County of Lancaster are all co-extensive with Poor Law Unions or Parishes of the same names.

TABLE 12.—REGISTRATION COUNTY, DISTRICTS and SUB-DISTRICTS, with their constituent CIVIL PARISHES.—AREA; HOUSES and POPULATION 1891 and 1901, and SEPARATE OCCUPIERS 1901.

EXPLANATORY NOTES.

- (1.) The Registration Districts of the County of Lancaster are all co-extensive with the Poor Law Unions or Parishes of the same names.
- (2.) Where the name of the Registration County in which a Parish is situated differs from that of the Administrative County, the name of the latter is added in italics; the names of County Boroughs are also stated after the names of the Parishes situated therein. The differences between the Registration County and the Administrative County are shown in Table 2.
- (3.) Parishes that are situated in a County Borough, Municipal Borough, or Urban District are distinguished by black type thus—Litherland.
- (4.) The places named in footnotes as being included in Civil Parishes are generally localities having no defined boundaries, such as hamlets, villages, etc.
- (5.) For particulars of existing detached parts of Civil Parishes see Table 13; and for changes in the boundaries of Civil Parishes effected by the Local Government Acts of 1888 and 1894, and by Local Acts since 1891, see Table 14. In all Districts and Sub-Districts marked + changes were made in boundaries between the Census of 1891 and that of 1901. Full particulars of the alterations have been published in the Registrar-General's Annual Reports.
- (6.) Revised areas of Civil Parishes have been furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department; for the area of the tidal water and foreshore comprised in Civil Parishes see Table 15.

* In 1891 the Tenements were abstracted for the Registration County; in order to make these figures comparable with those for the Administrative County in 1901 it has been necessary to make approximate adjustments.

TABLE 22.—AGGREGATE NUMBERS of MARRIAGES, BIRTHS, and DEATHS registered in each REGISTRATION DISTRICT during the INTERCENSAL PERIOD 1891—1901 ; INCREASE or DECREASE of POPULATION compared with DIFFERENCE between BIRTHS and DEATHS.

NOTE.—No correction is made in this Table for Deaths occurring in Public Institutions, which in some cases are sufficiently numerous to detract from the value of the comparison between the Increase of Population and the Excess of Births over Deaths. The districts which are specially affected in this way are MANCHESTER and PRESTWICH, in the former of which the Excess of Births over Deaths is overstated, while in the latter it is probably understated to the extent of about 10,000 in the ten years.

* Changes were made in the boundaries of many of the Registration Districts during the intercensal period. In the Table the enumerated populations of every such District for 1891 and 1901 are given, first for the District as constituted at the Census of 1891, and then for the District as constituted by each successive change. The dates from which the changed areas were adopted for tabulation of Births and Deaths are shown in the first column. In calculating the Increase or Decrease of Population (Col. 7) approximate allowance has been made for variations caused by changes of boundary.

TABLE 32.—OCCUPATIONS OF MALES AGED 10 YEARS AND UPWARDS, at TEN GROUPS of AGES, in the ADMINISTRATIVE COUNTY (together with COUNTY BOROUGHs), distinguishing for those engaged in certain industries the numbers returned as "WORKING AT HOME"; also as "EMPLOYERS," "WORKING FOR EMPLOYERS," "WORKING ON OWN ACCOUNT," and "OTHERS," 1901.

NOTE.—In classifying the people by their occupations the following rules have been observed:—Persons returned as engaged in more than one occupation have been referred to the occupation which in each case appeared to be the most important; or, if there was no difference in this respect, to the occupation first mentioned in the Return. Thus, persons manufacturing trade has been selected in preference to a selling trade. A Clergyman who is also a Schoolmaster has been classed under the heading "Schoolmaster." Persons returned as "Pensioners" or as "Retired" from any specified profession or business (except Officers of the Army or Navy, Clergymen, and Medical Men) appear in this Table as simply "Pensioners." Persons returned as "Retired" from the Army or Navy, or from the Civil Service, are classed as "Retired." Other Inmates of Workhouses, when returned as Insane and yet described by their former occupations, have—irrespective of age—been classed as "Retired." Other Inmates of Workhouses, unless aged 60 years or upwards, and Patients in Hospitals and Prisoners of all ages, have been classed under their stated occupations on the assumption that their ordinary work has been relinquished for a time only. Inmates of Workhouses aged 60 years and upwards, whose former occupations were returned, have been dealt with as "Retired."

The numbers given under any heading include Apprentices, Assistants, Workmen and Labourers, as well as Masters, except where special headings are provided for subordinates. Messengers, Errand Boys, Porters, and Watchmen are, however, shown under a separate heading, and Clerks are classified as Civil Service Clerks, Bank Clerks, Railway Clerks, Insurance Clerks, or Commercial Clerks, according to the particular service in which they are engaged.

In some cases women and children, chiefly widows or orphans carrying on the business of their husbands or fathers, will be found under Occupations commonly followed only by adult men.

In the list of Occupations for Females, the Male designations of occupations are given for convenience, except where the occupations are exclusively followed by Females.

The figures in italics, in the section of the Table for Females, relate to the Married or Widowed. In order to find space for this additional information, those Occupations are omitted in which Females are not employed to any extent.

* The figures given for 1891 relate to the Registration County as then constituted, but the difference between the boundaries of the Registration and Administrative Counties does not materially affect their value for purposes of comparison.
† Of the 2,064 Persons in 1901 classified in the Table as Deaf and Dumb, 73 Males and 61 Females, respectively, were returned simply as "Dumb," as were also 41 Males and 32 Females classified as Deaf and Dumb from Childhood.
‡ The Deaf and Dumb from Childhood were not distinguished in the Tables for 1891. The figures for 1901 are based on the descriptions given in the Schedules, and must be regarded as incomplete.
§ The Census Schedule did not require Persons who were Deaf without being Dumb to mention the fact of their Deafness, and therefore the figures given for the "Deaf" cannot be regarded as complete.
|| In 1891 the heading of the Census Schedule was "Lunatic, Imbecile or Idiot," and the persons so returned were eventually classed as "Mentally Deranged." In 1901 the heading of the Schedule provided for two categories of the Mentally Deranged, viz., "Lunatic" and "Imbecile, Feeble-minded," and in drawing comparisons from the figures for the two Censuses, allowance must be made for these differences. The figures for 1891 for the new sub-divisions of Mentally Deranged cannot therefore be given. Total "Lunatic, Imbecile, and Feeble-minded," 1901:—16,078 Persons, 7,711 Males, 8,367 Females. Total "Mentally Deranged," 1891:—11,822 Persons, 5,626 Males, 6,196 Females.

TABLE 38.—The BLIND, the DEAF and DUMB, the DEAF, and the INSANE in the ADMINISTRATIVE COUNTY, 1901.—CONDITION as to MARRIAGE and AGES of MALES and FEMALES returned as BLIND, DEAF and DUMB, DEAF, LUNATIC, and IMBECILE or FEEBLE-MINDED; also of PERSONS suffering from "COMBINED INFIRMITIES"; distinguishing those in each group who had been afflicted from CHILDHOOD

NOTE.—The considerable numbers of persons suffering from one or other infirmity in some of the County Boroughs is due to the presence therein of Institutions in which such persons were enumerated. For instance, of the 871 Lunatic and Imbecile or Feeble-minded in St. Helens, 825 were resident in a County Lunatic Asylum at Rainhill.

* These figures include 73 Males and 64 Females returned simply as "Dumb."

† These persons are also included in the totals of the several infirmities from which they suffer. Those so afflicted "from Childhood" numbered 27.

TABLE 39A.—OCCUPATIONS of the BLIND (distinguishing those BLIND from CHILDHOOD), and of the DEAF and DUMB; PERSONS, MALES and FEMALES (UNMARRIED and MARRIED or WIDOWED), AGED 10 YEARS and UPWARDS, in the ADMINISTRATIVE COUNTY, 1901.

NOTE.—The Occupations have been abstracted precisely as entered in the Census Schedules, except that all persons in Workhouses over 60 years of age described as having formerly followed some occupation are classed as "Retired." Those under 60 years have been classed to their respective occupations unless the word "Retired" has been added. It is probable that, where Blind persons are returned as following an occupation inconsistent with their infirmity, they may be employers of other persons, or may have omitted the word "Retired" or "Formerly." Of the Blind returned as engaged in occupations (Orders I.—XXII.), 30 Males and 26 Females, and, of the Deaf and Dumb, 6 Males and 4 Females, were on the day of enumeration resident in Workhouses.

CENSUS OF 1901.

COUNTY OF LEICESTER.

SUMMARY OF THE CENSUS RESULTS.

THE Ancient or Geographical County of Leicester contains, according to revised returns furnished by His Majesty's Ordnance Survey Department, an area of 527,123 statute acres. Its population numbers 434,019 persons. In 1801 the population was 130,082; it has, therefore, more than trebled during the Century.

POPULATION.
TABLES 1, 2,
AND 3.

The Administrative County together with the County Borough of Leicester contains an area of 532,788 statute acres, and a population of 437,490, against 376,263 in 1891, an increase of 16·3 per cent.; the number of inhabited houses is 95,297, against 79,318 in 1891, an increase of 20·1 per cent.; of uninhabited houses the number is 7,162, against 5,254 in 1891, an increase of 36·3 per cent.; and of houses building, 976, against 564 in 1891, an increase of 73·0 per cent. Of the 7,162 uninhabited houses, 2,558 were "In Occupation," that is, utilised for business or other purposes but without inmates on Census night.

The Registration County contains an area of 550,170 statute acres, and a population of 440,932. The differences between the Ancient, the Administrative, and the Registration County are set forth in Table 2. The boundaries of the Administrative and of the Registration County are delineated on the appended Map.

Where comparative figures for 1891 are quoted, they relate to areas as constituted in 1901, unless otherwise stated.

The Ancient County of Leicester is divided for Parliamentary purposes into 5 Constituencies—4 Divisions of the County, and the Parliamentary Borough of Leicester, which returns two Members.

PARLIAMEN-
TARY CON-
STITUENCIES.
TABLE 4.

There are 255 Ecclesiastical Parishes or Districts situated wholly or partly within the Ancient County of Leicester. Of these 255 Parishes or parts of Parishes, 250, with an aggregate population of 431,853, are within the Diocese of Peterborough; 3, with a population of 2,070, in that of Southwell; and 2, with a population of 96, in that of Worcester.

ECCLESIASTI-
CAL PARISHES.
TABLE 5.

The Administrative County contains a population of 225,911, and the County Borough of Leicester a population of 211,579, the aggregate population thus amounting to 437,490. The increase in the Administrative County since 1891, apart from the County Borough, is 24,272, or 12·0 per cent.; in the County Borough of Leicester it is 36,955, or 21·2 per cent.; and in the total population 61,227, or 16·3 per cent.

ADMINISTRA-
TIVE COUNTY
AND COUNTY
BOROUGH.
TABLE 6.

The Administrative County has one Court of Quarter Sessions and is divided into 9 Petty Sessional Divisions. The County Borough of Leicester has a separate Commission of the Peace, and a separate Court of Quarter Sessions.

PETTY
SESSIONAL
DIVISIONS.
TABLE 7.

URBAN AND
DISTRICTS.
TABLES 8, 9,
AND 10.

The total population of the Urban Districts (comprising the County Borough of Leicester, the Municipal Borough of Loughborough, and ten other Urban Districts) is 299,988, an increase of 52,268, or 21·1 per cent., since 1891. In the Borough of Loughborough, which is the only Urban District besides the County Borough having a population of more than 20,000, the population increased from 18,196 to 21,508, or 18·2 per cent. In the 13 Rural Districts, the population is 137,502, an increase of 8,959 or 7·0 per cent. The proportions of Urban and Rural population to the aggregate population of the entire County are 68·6 and 31·4 per cent. respectively.

TABLE 11.

The number of Civil Parishes within the Administrative County is 326. In addition the County Borough of Leicester consists of a single Parish.

REGISTRATION
DISTRICTS.
TABLE 12.

The Registration County of Leicester contains a population of 440,932, and is divided into 11 Registration Districts, which are co-extensive with the Poor Law Unions or Parishes of the same names; these Districts again are sub-divided into 25 Sub-Districts. In Table 12, besides comparative figures of houses and of population in 1891 and 1901, a column is given to show the number of Families or Separate Occupiers in each Registration District and Sub-District, as well as in each Civil Parish. These amount to 97,065, giving an average of 4·5 persons to a family. The population of Leicestershire, as shown in the Tables, includes a total of 178 persons—85 Males and 93 Females—who were enumerated as having passed the Census night in Barns, Sheds, Caravans, etc.

TENEMENTS.
TABLE 19.

The total number of separate Tenements in the Administrative County (together with the County Borough of Leicester) which had been 80,554 in 1891, rose to 96,348 in 1901, the increase being equal to 19·6 per cent. The Tenements containing five or more rooms increased from 52,042 to 71,519, or 37·4 per cent., while those with fewer than five rooms decreased from 28,512 to 24,829, or 12·9 per cent. Stated in another way, the Tenements with five or more rooms, which were equal to 64·6 per cent. of the total Tenements in 1891, increased to 74·2 per cent. at the recent Census, while the percentage of the Tenements with fewer than five rooms declined from 35·4 to 25·8. The total number of Tenements with fewer than five rooms, containing more than two persons per room, declined from 1,820 to 1,030, or 43·4 per cent. In the aggregate of Urban Districts the proportion of Tenements with fewer than five rooms to the total number of Tenements is 19·9 per cent., while in the aggregate of Rural Districts it is 38·1 per cent.

MARRIAGES,
BIRTHS,
DEATHS, AND MIGRATION.
TABLE 22.

Table 22 shows the increase or decrease of population in the Registration County and its Registration Districts as compared with the difference between registered Births and Deaths: the Table has been extended by the addition of a column showing the balance of change which must be ascribed to Migration. The increase of population in the Registration County since 1891, as calculated for the purposes of this Table (see footnote thereto), amounts to 62,272, and the excess of Births over Deaths to 56,340. It follows that the County has made a net gain by Migration of 5,932. Of the eleven Registration Districts in the County of Leicester, only four show a gain by Migration, the largest gain being in the District of Leicester (co-extensive with the County Borough of the same name) in which the total increase of population is 34,892, made up of an excess of Births over Deaths of 25,213, and a gain by Migration of 9,679.

AGES.

The Females enumerated in the Administrative County together with the County Borough of Leicester exceed the Males by 17,038; there are thus 1,081 Females to every 1,000 Males. The number of children of school age (three and under fourteen years) is 104,161, of whom 51,652 are boys and 52,509 girls. The attendance at school of children under five is not, however, compulsory: the number of children aged five and under fourteen years is 84,155, of whom 41,736 are boys and 42,419 girls.

The number of persons 65 years of age and upwards is 21,067; and of these 9,602 are Males and 11,465 Females; one Female claimed to be a centenarian. The proportion of persons aged 65 years and upwards enumerated in Rural Districts is 6·7 per cent. of the total Rural population, while in the Urban Districts the proportion is 3·9 per cent. of the total Urban population.

Of the Males enumerated in the Administrative County and County Borough, 124,449 are Unmarried, 78,469 are Married, and 7,308 are Widowed. Of the Females, 133,025 are Unmarried, 79,850 are Married, and 14,389 are Widowed. The proportion of the Married in the Registration County to the population at all ages is now higher than it was in 1891, owing to the decrease in the proportion of children through the decline in the birth-rate. The proportion of the Married, however, if calculated on the population aged upwards of twenty years, is distinctly lower than it was ten years ago, among both Males and Females, the respective percentages for 1891 and 1901 being 68·4 and 67·0 for Males, and 62·0 and 60·9 for Females.

CONDITION AS TO MARRIAGE.
TABLE 27.

Table 29 shows, in combination, the ages of both Husbands and Wives. In 75,829 cases in the Registration County both the Husband and the Wife were enumerated in the same schedule, and were therefore presumably living together; in addition there were 3,252 Husbands whose Wives were absent—that is, were not enumerated in the same schedule—and 4,600 Wives whose Husbands were absent on the Census night.

AGES OF HUSBANDS
AND WIVES.
TABLE 29.

Pauper Inmates of Workhouse Establishments in the Registration County number 2,092 persons at all ages (equal to 4·7 per 1,000 of the population), of whom 1,325 are Males and 767 Females; at 55 years and upwards the proportion of the population at the same age in Workhouse Establishments is 24·1 per 1,000, and at 65 years and upwards it is 37·1.

WORKHOUSES.
TABLE 30.

Prisoners in Local and Convict Prisons in the Registration County number 131 against 151 in 1891. Of these, 118 are Males and 13 Females. Their ages and civil conditions are shown in Table 31.

PRISONS.
TABLE 31.

The Tables dealing with the Occupations of the people have been extended and elaborated. Table 32 contains a list of 379 Occupations, and shows the number of Males and Females employed in each. In this and succeeding Tables, Females are separately given as Unmarried and Married or Widowed. A tabular note furnishes information as to ages and other Occupational details for industries of special local importance.

OCCUPATIONS.
TABLE 32.

The following figures give a summary view of the Occupational statistics for the Administrative County together with the County Borough, showing the proportions of Males and Females, over 10 Years of age, engaged in each Order, and also the proportions Unoccupied:—

Certain changes in the method of classification and in the mode of filling up the Schedules, which have secured more accurate definition of employment, affect the numbers in many Occupational headings for purposes of comparison with the results of the Census taken in 1891. The following have, however, been selected, and in some cases thrown into groups, to illustrate the progression or retrogression of some of the leading industries of the County. Figures showing the total population, of each sex over 10 Years of age, with percentages of increase, head the Table, and afford a ready means of comparing the changes in the numbers following various Occupations with the changes in the total population between the two Censuses. The figures for 1901 in the following Table relate to the Registration County to secure approximate accuracy of comparison with those for 1891; they are consequently not identical with the figures given in Table 32, which relate to the Administrative County together with the County Borough.

Of the 70,918 Females over 10 Years of age engaged in Occupations in the Administrative County and County Borough, 52,769, or 74·4 per cent., are Unmarried, and 18,149, or 25·6 per cent., Married or Widowed.

The total number of Males returned as "Pensioned" or "Retired," other than Army and Navy Officers, Clergymen, and members of the Medical Profession, is 3,170, being in the proportion of 2·3 per cent. to the number engaged in Occupations, as compared with 2,383, or 2·0 per cent., in 1891. The number of "Retired" Males enumerated in Workhouses and Workhouse Infirmarys who returned their previous Occupations is 672, and those in Lunatic Asylums 407, making a total of 1,079. The total number of "Pensioned" or "Retired" Females is 947, being in the proportion of 1·3 per cent. to the number engaged in Occupations, as compared with 878, or 1·4 per cent., in 1891. The number in Workhouses and Workhouse Infirmaries is 194, and in Lunatic Asylums 303, making a total of 502. Of the "Retired" Females, 415 are Unmarried, and 532 are Married or Widowed. Among the "Retired" Males, there were enumerated in Workhouse Establishments and Lunatic Asylums 186 of the 293 Agricultural Labourers, or Farm Servants, 136 of the 167 General Labourers, 125 of the 204 Boot, Shoe, etc., Makers, and 127 of the 286 engaged in Hosiery Manufacture. Among the "Retired" Females, there were enumerated in these Institutions 171 of the 216 Domestic Indoor Servants, and 107 of the 136 engaged in Hosiery Manufacture.

Table 35 sets forth the Occupations of the People by Sexes and in five groups of Ages for the County Borough of Leicester; for the Aggregate of the Urban Districts, including the County Borough; and for the Aggregate of the Rural Districts. The total population over 10 Years of age, of Unmarried and of Married or Widowed Females, and the number of each class engaged in Occupations are given separately.

TABLE 35A.

Of the 434,019 persons enumerated in the Ancient County of Leicester, 320,593, or 73.9 per cent., were born within the County; 6,375 were born in London, an increase since 1891 of 1,041; 1,893 in Scotland, an increase of 396; 1,759 in Ireland, an increase of 62; 1,436 in Wales and Monmouthshire, an increase of 499; and 943 in British Colonies or Dependencies, an increase of 167. Persons of Foreign birth number 1,041, an increase of 293; and of these 445 were abstracted as British Subjects, 57 as Naturalised British Subjects, and 539 as Foreigners; a decrease, in the case of the last-named, of 35 since 1891. British Subjects and Naturalised British Subjects number together 502, and contrast with a total of 174 in 1891. This wide difference seems to be mainly due to the new instruction on the Census Schedule that persons born abroad should state whether they were British Subjects, Naturalised British Subjects, or Foreign Subjects. Greater accuracy has thus been secured, but the figures have less value for comparison with those of 1891.

BIRTHPLACES.
TABLE 36.

Of the 539 Foreigners, 327 are Males and 212 Females; there are thus to every 1,000 Males no more than 648 Females, which last figure contrasts with 1,081 in the general population of the County.

TABLE 37.

The number of persons returned as Blind is 310, and of these 10 suffer from some other Infirmary also. Deaf and Dumb persons, including 17 who are returned simply as Dumb, number 173. Of these 173 persons, 11 suffer from some other Infirmary also.

TABLE 38.

Lunatics number 985, including 6 afflicted with some other Infirmary; and the Imbecile and Feeble-minded 632, including 9 otherwise afflicted. The total of these classes is 1,617. (See Note § to Table 38, page 67.) It may be noted that, of the 1,617 persons returned as mentally deranged, 1,260 were inmates of Institutions, including 1,096 in Public and Private Lunatic Asylums, 160 in Workhouses, and 4 in another Institution; the remaining 357 were resident with relatives or in unlicensed houses. The 160 mentally deranged persons enumerated in Workhouses were returned as Imbecile or Feeble-minded; of the 357 not enumerated in Institutions, 10 were returned as Lunatic and 347 as Imbecile or Feeble-minded.

TABLE 10.—RURAL DISTRICTS.—AREA; HOUSES 1901, and POPULATION 1891 and 1901

NOTE.—Leicester (409), is the only Registration District in the County of Leicester which contains no Rural Area ; while the Poor Law Unions and Registration Districts of Lutterworth (400), Billesdon (402), and Market Bosworth (405), contain no Urban District. Under the provisions of the Local Government Act, 1894, considerable changes were made in the constitution of Rural Districts. In Leicestershire they comprise exclusively Parishes in the Poor Law Unions of the same names, except Castle Donington, and Hallaton, which consist of Parishes in the Poor Law Unions of Shardlow and Uppingham respectively ; Belvoir, which consists of Parishes in the Poor Law Unions of Grantham and Bingham ; Market Bosworth, which consists of Parishes in the Poor Law Unions of Shipston on Stour and Market Bosworth ; and Melton Mowbray, which consists of Parishes in the Poor Law Unions of Melton Mowbray and Oakham. The extent of each Rural District may readily be seen in the Map preceding the Tables.

TABLE 11.—CIVIL PARISHES in the ADMINISTRATIVE COUNTY, and in the COUNTY BOROUGH of LEICESTER.—INHABITED HOUSES 1901, and POPULATION 1891 and 1901.

NOTE.—The expression "Civil Parish" means "a place for which a separate Poor Rate is or can be made, or for which a separate Overseer is or can be appointed." The Parishes are arranged alphabetically, those having compound names being placed in the order indicated by the usual pronunciation of those names—thus Great Bowden will be found under the letter G, and North Kilworth under the letter N. The Registration Districts of the County of Leicester are all co-extensive with the Poor Law Unions or Parishes of the same names.

TABLE 12.—REGISTRATION COUNTY, DISTRICTS, and SUB-DISTRICTS, with their constituent CIVIL PARISHES.—AREA; HOUSES and POPULATION 1891 and 1901, and SEPARATE OCCUPIERS 1901.

EXPLANATORY NOTES.

- (1) The Registration Districts of the County of Leicester are all co-extensive with the Poor Law Unions or Parishes of the same names.
- (2) Where the name of the Registration County in which a Parish is situated differs from that of the Administrative County, the name of the latter is added in italics; the letters C.B. after the name of Leicester Civil Parish indicate that it is situated in the County Borough of the same name. The differences between the Registration County and the Administrative County are shown in Table 2.
- (3) Parishes that are situated in a County Borough, Municipal Borough, or Urban District, are distinguished by black type thus—Great Bowden.
- (4) The places named in footnotes as being included in Civil Parishes are generally localities having no defined boundaries, such as hamlets, villages, etc.
- (5) For particulars of existing detached parts of Civil Parishes see Table 13; and for changes in the boundaries of Civil Parishes effected by the Local Government Acts of 1888 and 1894, and by Local Acts since 1891, see Table 14. In all Districts and Sub-Districts marked + changes were made in boundaries between the Census of 1891 and that of 1901. Full particulars of the alterations have been published in the Registrar-General's Annual Reports.
- (6) Revised areas of Civil Parishes have been furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department.

NOTE.—Persons on board Vessels in Ports, Harbours, and Docks, including in certain cases hulks or other stationary vessels, were enumerated by Officers of His Majesty's Customs; and those on Barges, etc., on Canals or Navigable Rivers, not within the limits of a port, by the local Enumerators.

The persons thus enumerated are distributed among the general population of the Parishes, contiguous to the waters in which the vessels were lying, with as much accuracy as the information obtained allows.

Fishermen at sea on the night of the Census, and not returning on 1st April, 1901, and persons on board vessels arriving in port later than that date, are not included.

NOTE.—No correction is made in this Table for Deaths occurring in Public Institutions, which in some cases are sufficiently numerous to detract from the value of the comparison between the increase of Population and the excess of Births over Deaths.

* Changes were made in the boundaries of many of the Registration Districts during the intercensal period. In the Table the enumerated populations of every such District for 1891 and 1901 are given, first for the District as constituted at the Census of 1891, and then for the District as constituted by each successive change. The dates from which the changed areas were adopted for tabulation of Births and Deaths are shown in the first column. In calculating the Increase or Decrease of Population (Col. 7) approximate allowance has been made for variations caused by changes of boundary. Owing to this method of calculation, the increase of Population shown in Col. 7 differs fractionally from that derivable from the figures for the Entire County in Table 1, and for the individual Registration Districts in Table 12, which relate to those areas as constituted at the time of the Census of 1901.

TABLE 32.—OCCUPATIONS of MALES and FEMALES AGED 10 YEARS AND UPWARDS, in the ADMINISTRATIVE COUNTY (together with the COUNTY BOROUGH of LEICESTER), distinguishing for FEMALES the UNMARRIED and the MARRIED or WIDOWED, 1901.

NOTE.—In classifying the people by their occupations the following rules have been observed :—Persons returned as engaged in more than one occupation have been referred to the occupation which in each case appeared to be the most important ; or, if there was no difference in this respect, to the occupation first mentioned in the Return. Thus, a manufacturing trade has been selected in preference to a selling trade. A Clergyman who is also a Schoolmaster has been classed under the heading "Schoolmaster." Persons returned as "Pensioners" or as "Retired" from any specified profession or business (except Officers of the Army or Navy, Clergymen, and Medical Men) appear in this Table as simply "Pensioners" or "Retired" (see Order XXIII.), but are classified in Table 34 according to their former occupations. Inmates of Lunatic Asylums or of Workhouses, when returned as Insane and yet described by their former occupations, have—irrespective of age—been classed as "Retired." Other Inmates of Workhouses, unless aged 60 years or upwards, and Patients in Hospitals and Prisoners of all ages, have been classed under their stated occupations on the assumption that their ordinary work has been relinquished for a time only. Inmates of Workhouses aged 60 years and upwards, whose former occupations were returned, have been dealt with as "Retired."

The numbers given under any heading include Apprentices, Assistants, Workmen, and Labourers, as well as Masters, except where special headings are provided for subordinates. Messengers, Errand Boys, Porters, and Watchmen are, however, shown under a separate heading, and Clerks are classified as Civil Service Clerks, Bank Clerks, Railway Clerks, Insurance Clerks, or Commercial Clerks, according to the particular service in which they are engaged.

In some cases women and children, chiefly widows or orphans carrying on the business of their husbands or fathers, are classed under Occupations commonly followed only by adult men.

In the list of Occupations the Male designations only are given for convenience, except where the occupations are exclusively followed by Females.

The figures in italics for Females, at the head of the Table and in the Tabular Note at the end, relate to the Married or Widowed.

Of the foregoing, 1 Male and 4 Females were returned in 1901 as Persons suffering from Combined Infirmities "from Childhood."

* The figures given for 1891 relate to the County of Leicester as then constituted for Registration purposes, while those for 1901 relate to the Administrative County, together with the County Borough of Leicester. The differences in the constitution of the two areas should be borne in mind in dealing with these figures—see Table 2.

† Of the 173 Persons in 1901 classified in the Table as Deaf and Dumb, 10 Males and 7 Females, respectively, were returned simply as "Dumb," as were also 5 Males and 2 Females classified as Deaf and Dumb from Childhood. The figures relating to the Deaf and Dumb from Childhood are based on the descriptions given in the Schedules, and must be regarded as incomplete.

‡ The Census Schedule did not require persons who were Deaf without being Dumb to mention the fact of their Deafness, and therefore the figures given for the "Deaf" cannot be regarded as complete.

§ In 1891 the heading of the Census Schedule was "Lunatic, Imbecile or Idiot," and the persons so returned were eventually classed as "Mentally Deranged." In 1901 the heading of the Schedule provided for two categories of the Mentally Deranged, viz., "Lunatic" and "Imbecile, Feeble-minded," and in drawing comparisons from the figures for the two Censuses, allowance should be made for these differences. The figures for 1891 for the new sub-divisions of Mentally Deranged cannot therefore be given. Total "Lunatic, Imbecile, and Feeble-minded," 1901:—1,617 Persons, 760 Males, 857 Females. Total "Mentally Deranged," 1891:—1,327 Persons, 617 Males, 710 Females.

NOTE.—The numbers of persons returned in Administrative areas as suffering from one or other infirmity are affected by the presence or absence of Institutions in which many of such persons might be resident. Thus, of the 1,319 persons returned in the County Borough of Leicester as "Lunatic" or "Imbecile, Feeble-minded," 611 were enumerated in the Borough Asylum, while 485 were resident in the Leicester and Rutland Counties Lunatic Asylum.

* These figures include 10 Males and 7 Females returned simply as "Dumb."

† These persons are also included in the totals of the several infirmities from which they suffer. Those so afflicted "from Childhood" numbered 5.

CENSUS OF 1901.

COUNTY OF LINCOLN.

SUMMARY OF THE CENSUS RESULTS.

THE Ancient or Geographical County of Lincoln contains, according to revised returns furnished by His Majesty's Ordnance Survey Department, an area of 1,693,550 statute acres. Its population numbers 498,847 persons. In 1801 the population was 208,625; it is now, therefore, about two-and-a-half times as great as it was a Century ago.

AREA AND POPULATION.
TABLES
1, 2, AND 3.

The Administrative Counties of the Parts of Holland, the Parts of Kesteven, and the Parts of Lindsey (together with 2 County Boroughs), contain an aggregate area of 1,696,332 statute acres, and a population of 500,022, against 474,041 in 1891, an increase of 5·5 per cent.; the number of inhabited houses is 113,960, against 103,968 in 1891, an increase of 9·6 per cent.; of uninhabited houses the number is 8,355, against 8,901 in 1891, a decrease of 6·1 per cent.; and of houses building 823, against 475 in 1891, an increase of 73·3 per cent. Of the 8,355 uninhabited houses, 3,299 were "In Occupation," that is, utilised for business or other purposes but without inmates on Census night.

The Registration County of Lincoln contains an area of 1,659,647 statute acres, and a population of 492,994. The differences between the Ancient, Administrative, and Registration Counties are set forth in Table 2. The respective boundaries of the several Administrative Counties and of the Registration County are delineated on the Map attached.

Where comparative figures are quoted, those for 1891 relate to areas as constituted in 1901, unless otherwise stated.

The Ancient County of Lincoln is divided for Parliamentary purposes into 11 Constituencies—7 Divisions of the County and 4 Boroughs.

PARLIAMEN-
TARY CON-
STITUENCIES.
TABLE 4.

There are 580 Ecclesiastical Parishes or Districts situated wholly or partly within the Ancient County of Lincoln; in no fewer than 44 of these the population enumerated on the Census night did not exceed 100 persons in each parish. Of the 580 Parishes, or parts of Parishes, 578, with an aggregate population of 498,347, are within the Diocese of Lincoln; while the Parishes of Eastoft and Harby with Swinethorpe, parts of which are in Lincolnshire, belong to the Dioceses of York and Southwell respectively.

TICAL

TABLE 5.

The Administrative County of the Parts of Holland contains a population of 77,619, an increase since 1891 of 1,406, or 1·8 per cent.

ADMINISTRA-
TIVE COUNTIES
AND COUNTY
BOROUGHES.
TABLE 6.

The Administrative County of the Parts of Kesteven contains a population of 103,962, a decrease since 1891 of 1,399, or 1·3 per cent.

The Administrative County of the Parts of Lindsey contains a population of 206,528, and the two County Boroughs contain a population of 111,922, the aggregate population thus amounting to 318,450. The increase in the Administrative County since 1891, apart from the County Boroughs, is 7,477, or 3·8 per cent.; in the County Boroughs it is 18,497, or 19·8 per cent.; and in the total population 25,974, or 8·9 per cent.

PETTY
SESSIONAL
DIVISIONS.
TABLE 7.

The three Administrative Counties, each of which has a separate Court of Quarter Sessions, are divided into 20 Petty Sessional Divisions, including 2 in "Holland," 4 in "Kesteven," and 14 in "Lindsey." Six Municipal Boroughs have separate Commissions of the Peace, and four of these (including the two County Boroughs) have in addition separate Courts of Quarter Sessions.

AGGREGATES
OF URBAN AND RURAL DISTRICTS.
TABLE 8.

The total population of the Urban Districts (including County and Municipal Boroughs) in the entire County amounts to 261,129, and that of Rural Districts, to 238,893. The population of the Urban Districts has increased by 37,339, or 16·7 per cent., since 1891, and that of the Rural Districts has decreased by 11,358, or 4·5 per cent. Detailed figures for the Administrative Counties of the Parts of Holland, Kesteven, and Lindsey, will be found in Table 8.

COUNTY
BOROUGHs,
MUNICIPAL BOROUGHs,
AND OTHER
URBAN
DISTRICTS.
TABLE 9.

The County contains 2 County Boroughs, 4 Municipal Boroughs, and 24 other Urban Districts. The population of the County Borough of Grimsby has increased from 51,934 in 1891 to 63,138 in 1901, or 21·6 per cent., and that of the City and County Borough of Lincoln from 41,491 to 48,784, or 17·6 per cent.; in no other Municipal Borough and in no Urban District in Lincolnshire does the population exceed 20,000. Among the smaller Urban Districts, Cleethorpe with Thrunscoe shows the most striking increase of population, viz., from 4,306 to 12,578, this being due to its proximity to Grimsby.

RURAL DISTRICTS.
TABLE 10.

Within the three Administrative Counties there are 20 Rural Districts, containing an aggregate population of 238,893, which represents 47·8 per cent. of the population of the entire County.

CIVIL
TABLE 11.

The number of Civil Parishes within the three Administrative Counties is 740, and in the County Boroughs 21. In some cases the population is very small; in no fewer than 18 Parishes the population enumerated on the Census night did not exceed 20 persons in each parish; while 4 others were without inhabitants.

REGISTRATION
DISTRICTS.
TABLE 12.

The Registration County of Lincoln contains a population of 492,994, and is divided into 15 Registration Districts, and these again were, at the date of the Census, subdivided into 50 Sub-Districts. In Table 12, besides comparative figures of houses and of population in 1891 and 1901, a column is given to show the number of Families or Separate Occupiers in each Registration District and Sub-District, as well as in each Civil Parish. These amount to 113,665, giving an average of 4·3 persons to a family. It may here be stated, though the figures are not presented in tabular form, that the population of the County of Lincoln, as shown in the Tables, includes a total of 332 persons—220 Males and 112 Females—who were enumerated as having passed the night of the Census in Barns, Sheds, Caravans, etc.

TENEMENTS.
TABLE 19.

The total number of separate Tenements in the Administrative Counties (together with County Boroughs) which had been 106,463 in 1891, rose to 115,469 in 1901, the increase being equal to 8·5 per cent. The Tenements containing five or more rooms increased from 61,623 to 74,891, or 21·5 per cent., while those with fewer than five rooms decreased from 44,840 to 40,578, or 9·5 per cent. Stated in another way, the Tenements with five or more rooms were equal to 57·9 per cent. of the total Tenements in 1891, and increased to 64·9 per cent. at the recent Census, while the percentage of the Tenements with fewer than five rooms declined from 42·1 to 35·1. A considerable decrease is shown in the number of Tenements in which more than two people per room were enumerated. Thus the number of one-roomed Tenements each containing more than two persons, decreased from 96 to 25; the number of two-roomed Tenements each containing more than four persons, from 522 to 272; the number of three-roomed Tenements each containing more than six persons, from 930 to 530; and the number of four-roomed Tenements each containing more than eight persons, from 1,007 to 723.

In the aggregate of Urban Districts the proportion of Tenements with fewer than five rooms to the total number of Tenements is 31·2 per cent., and in the aggregate of Rural Districts it is 39·3 per cent.

The following Table gives particulars concerning Tenements for the three Administrative Counties separately.

	PARTS OF HOLLAND.	PARTS OF KESTEVEN.	PARTS OF LINDSEY (TOGETHER WITH TWO COUNTY BOROUGHs).
Total Tenements	18,270	23,797	73,402

Percentage of Tenements with fewer than Five Rooms to Total Tenements in aggregate of Urban Districts	34·9	39·0	28·9
Percentage of Tenements with fewer than Five Rooms to Total Tenements in aggregate of Rural Districts	37·2	41·9	38·7

Table 22 shows the increase or decrease of population in the Registration County and its Registration Districts, as compared with the difference between registered Births and Deaths: the Table has been extended by the addition of a column showing the balance of change which must be ascribed to Migration. The increase of population in the Registration County since 1891, as calculated for the purposes of this Table (see footnote thereto), amounts to 25,672, and the excess of Births over Deaths, to 52,885. It follows that the County has experienced a net loss by Migration of 27,213 persons. All the Registration Districts show a loss by Migration except Lincoln (where there is a small gain) and Grimsby; in the latter District, which includes the County Borough of Grimsby and the Urban District of Cleethorpe with Thrunscote, the total increase of population is 19,401, made up of an excess of Births over Deaths of 11,010 and a gain by Migration of 8,391. The largest proportional loss of population by Migration is shown in Caistor, Bourne, and Horncastle Registration Districts.

MARRIAGES,
BIRTHS,
DEATHS, AND MIGRATION.
TABLE 22.

The Females enumerated in the three Administrative Counties (together with County Boroughs) exceed the Males by 8,476; there are thus 1,034 Females to every 1,000 Males. The number of children of school age (three and under fourteen years) is 117,299, of whom 58,433 are boys and 58,866 girls. It is to be observed, however, that the attendance at school of children under five is not compulsory. The number of children aged five and under fourteen years is 95,369, of whom 47,563 are boys and 47,806 girls.

SEXES AND AGES IN THE
ADMINISTRATIVE
WITH THE COUNTY
BOROUGHs.
TABLE 23.

The number of persons 65 years of age and upwards is 33,029, and of these 15,385 are Males and 17,644 Females; three Males and two Females claim to be 100 years or upwards. The proportion of persons aged 65 years and upwards enumerated in Rural Districts is 8·1 per cent. of the total Rural population, while in the Urban Districts the proportion is 5·2 per cent. of the total Urban population.

Of the Males enumerated in the three Administrative Counties together with County Boroughs, 145,727 are Unmarried, 90,379 are Married, and 9,667 are Widowed. Of the Females, 143,366 are Unmarried, 92,031 are Married, and 18,852 are Widowed.

CONDITION AS TO MARRIAGE.
TABLE 27.

The following Table shows the percentages for the Registration County of Lincoln in 1891 and in 1901:—

Condition as to Marriage.	MALES.				FEMALES.
	To 100 at All Ages.		To 100 at Twenty years and upwards.		To 100 at All Ages.		To 100 at Twenty years and upwards.
	1891.	1901.	1891.	1901.	1891.	1901.	1891.	1901.
Unmarried	61·0	59·3	27·1	28·5	57·9	56·4	24·1	25·7
Married	35·2	36·8	65·7	64·6	34·7	36·2	62·5	61·7
Widowed	3·8	3·9	7·2	6·9	7·4	7·4	13·4	12·6

It may be noted from the figures that the proportion of the Married to the population at all ages is now higher than it was in 1891, owing to the decrease in the proportion of children through the decline in the birth-rate. The proportion of the Married, however, if calculated on the population of twenty years and upwards, is distinctly lower than it was ten years ago, among both Males and Females.

AGES OF HUSBANDS
AND WIVES.
TABLE 29.

Table 29 shows, in combination, the ages of both Husbands and Wives. In 84,864 cases in the Registration County both the Husband and the Wife were enumerated in the same schedule, and were therefore presumably living together; in addition there were 4,238 Husbands whose Wives were absent—that is, were not enumerated in the same schedule—and 5,846 Wives whose Husbands were absent, on the Census night.

WORKHOUSES.
TABLE 30.

Pauper Inmates of Workhouse Establishments in the Registration County number 1,896 persons at all ages, of whom 1,224 are Males and 672 Females. This number represents approximately 0·38 per cent. of the general population. At advanced ages the proportion is far higher; at 55 years and upwards the proportion per cent. of the population at the same age in Workhouse Establishments is 1·6, and at 65 years and upwards 2·6 per cent.

PRISONS.
TABLE 31.

Prisoners in Local and Convict Prisons in the Registration County number 156, against 155 in 1891. Of these 156 Persons, 148 are Males and 8 Females. Their ages and civil conditions are shown in Table 31.

OCCUPATIONS.
TABLE 32.

The Tables dealing with the Occupations of the people have been extended and elaborated. Table 32 contains a list of 379 Occupations, and shows the number of Males and Females employed in each. In this and succeeding Tables, Females are separately given as Unmarried and Married or Widowed. A tabular note furnishes information as to ages and other Occupational details for industries of special local importance.

The following figures give a summary view of Occupational statistics for the Administrative Counties of the Parts of Holland, Kesteven, and Lindsey (together with 2 County Boroughs), showing the proportions of Males and Females over 10 Years of age engaged in each Order, and also the proportions Unoccupied:—

Certain changes in the method of classification and in the mode of filling up the Schedules, securing more accurate definition of employment, affect the numbers under many Occupational headings for the purpose of comparison with the results of the Census taken in 1891. The following have, however, been selected, and in some cases thrown into groups, for comparison, so as to illustrate the progression or retrogression of some of the leading industries of the County. Figures showing the total population of each sex over 10 Years of age, with percentages of increase, head the Table, and afford a ready means of comparing the changes in the numbers following various Occupations with the changes in the total population between the two Censuses. The figures for 1901, in the following Table, relate to the Registration County of Lincoln to secure better comparison with those for 1891. They are consequently not identical with the figures given in Table 32, which relate to the Administrative Counties together with the County Boroughs.

In 1891 the percentage of the total population aged 10 Years and upwards engaged in Occupations in the Registration County was, in the case of Males 82·9, in the case of Females 27·1; in 1901 the percentages are 83·8 and 23·6 respectively. In the Administrative Counties, together with the County Boroughs, the rates are 83·9 for Males and 23·5 for Females.

It has already been stated that Females have been abstracted separately as “Unmarried” and “Married or Widowed.” Of the 46,900 Females over 10 Years of age engaged in Occupations, 37,081, or 79·1 per cent., are in the former category, and 9,819, or 20·9 per cent., in the latter. Domestic Indoor Service finds employment for 1,375 Married or Widowed Females; Dressmaking, Shirtmaking, Millinery, and Tailoring, for 1,292; and Laundry and Washing Service, for 914. There are also 1,134 Charwomen Married or Widowed, out of a total of 1,624.

The number of "Retired" Males enumerated in Workhouses and Workhouse Infirmarys who returned their previous Occupations is 696, and those in Lunatic Asylums 377, making a total of 1,073. BOROUGHS, ETC.
TABLE 35.

Table 35 sets forth the Occupations of the People by Sexes and in five groups of Ages for each of the County Boroughs of Grimsby and Lincoln; for the Aggregate of the Urban Districts, including County and Municipal Boroughs; and for the Aggregate of Rural Districts. The total population over 10 Years of age, of Unmarried and of Married or Widowed Females, and the number of each class engaged in Occupations are given separately.

GROUPED
DISTRICTS.
TABLE 35A.

Table 35A is a new Table, and is so constructed as to show for every Urban District with a population exceeding 5,000 the following Statistics dealing with the social condition of the people:—(1) The total population, Male and Female, of an age to engage in Occupations, that is, over ten years; (2) The number who are retired or unoccupied; (3) The total number engaged in Occupations; (4) The number engaged in specified Occupations or groups of Occupations selected to illustrate the prevailing Industries of the County; (5) The number of Children between ten and fourteen years of age engaged in Occupations; (6) The proportion per cent. of Children so engaged to the total Child Population within those years; (7) The number of Unmarried Women, and of Married or Widowed Women engaged in Occupations; and (8) The proportion of Female Domestic Servants—not including those in Hotels, etc.—to a hundred Separate Occupiers or Families.

BIRTHPLACES.
TABLE 36.

Of the 498,847 persons enumerated in the Ancient County of Lincoln, 400,660 were born within the County; 6,329 were born in London, an increase since 1891 of 767; 1,632 in Scotland, an increase of 402; 1,517 in Ireland, an increase of 63; 814 in Wales and Monmouthshire, an increase of 196; and 777 in British Colonies or Dependencies, an increase of 135.

Persons of Foreign birth, including those enumerated on vessels in port on the Census night, number 2,063, an increase of 542, and of these 484 were abstracted as British Subjects, 98 as Naturalised British Subjects, and 1,481 as Foreigners; of the last named persons 209, enumerated on shore, were stated to be on their way to Canada. British Subjects and Naturalised British Subjects number together 582, and contrast with a total of 226 in 1891. This wide difference seems to be mainly due to the new instruction on the Census Schedule that persons born abroad should state whether they were British Subjects, Naturalised British Subjects, or Foreign Subjects. Greater accuracy has thus been secured, but the figures have diminished value for comparison with those in 1891.

Of the 1,481 Foreigners, 1,101 are Males and 380 Females; thus to every 1,000 Males there are no more than 345 Females, which last figure contrasts with 1,034 in the general population of the County.

FOREIGNERS.
TABLE 37.

The number of persons returned as Blind is 397, and of these 18 also suffer from some other Infirmary.

THE BLIND,
THE DEAF AND DUMB, THE
DEAF, AND
THE INSANE.
TABLE 38.

Deaf and Dumb persons, including 31 who are returned simply as Dumb, number 188. Of these 188 persons, 5 also suffer from some other Infirmary.

Lunatics number 945, and the Imbecile and Feeble-minded 811, including 8 afflicted with some other infirmity. The total of these classes is 1,756, against 1,271 in 1891. In comparing these figures, however, attention must be paid to the fact that the heading to the Infirmities Column of the Census Schedule was not uniform at the two Censuses. In 1891 the words adopted were, "Lunatic, Imbecile, or Idiot," and this expression might have led to more frequent concealment of cases of mental derangement than did the form of words adopted for the recent Census, when Occupiers were instructed to describe the afflicted person either under the title of "Lunatic," or under that of "Imbecile, Feeble-minded." For these reasons a calculation of the increase per cent. on the population would be misleading. It may be noted that, of the 1,756 persons returned as mentally deranged, 1,119 were inmates of Institutions, including 951 in Public and Private Lunatic Asylums, and 168 in Workhouses; the remaining 637 were resident with relatives or in unlicensed houses.

Of the 168 mentally deranged persons enumerated in Workhouses, 7 were returned as Lunatic and 161 as Imbecile or Feeble-minded; and of the 637 not enumerated in Institutions, 8 were returned as Lunatic, and 629 as Imbecile or Feeble-minded.

TABLE 10.—RURAL DISTRICTS.—AREA ; HOUSES 1901, and POPULATION 1891 and 1901.

NOTE.—Under the provisions of the Local Government Act, 1894, considerable changes were made in the constitution of Rural Districts. In Lincolnshire they comprise exclusively Parishes in the Poor Law Unions of the same names, except Crowland, East Elloe, Claypole, Uffington, and Sibsey, which consist of Parishes in the Poor Law Unions of Peterborough, Holbeach, Newark, Stamford, and Boston respectively ; Isle of Axholme, which consists of Parishes in the Poor Law Unions of Thorne and Goole ; and Branston and Welton, which together comprise the Rural Parishes in Lincoln Poor Law Union. The extent of each Rural District may readily be seen in the Map preceding the Tables.

TABLE 11.—CIVIL PARISHES in the ADMINISTRATIVE COUNTIES of the PARTS of HOLLAND, KESTEVEN, and LINDSEY, and in each COUNTY BOROUGH.—INHABITED HOUSES 1901, and POPULATION 1891 and 1901.

NOTE.—The expression "Civil Parish" means "a place for which a separate Poor Rate is or can be made or for which a separate Overseer is or can be appointed." The Parishes are arranged alphabetically under each County and County Borough, those having compound names being placed in the order indicated by the usual pronunciation of those names—thus Great Beats will be found under the letter G, and Old Leake under the letter O. All the Registration Districts of the County of Lincoln are co-extensive with the Poor Law Unions of the same names.

EXPLANATORY NOTES.

- (1.) The Registration Districts of the County of Lincoln are all co-extensive with the Poor Law Unions of the same names.
- (2.) Where the name of the Registration County in which a Parish is situated differs from that of the Administrative County, the name of the latter is added in italics, the three Administrative Counties of the Parts of Holland, Kesteven, and Lindsey being treated as the County of Lincoln for the purpose of this Table; the names of County Boroughs are also stated after the names of the Parishes situated therein. The differences between the Registration County and the Administrative County are shown in Table 2.
- (3.) Parishes that are situated in a County Borough, Municipal Borough, or Urban District are distinguished by black type thus—Stamford All Saints.
- (4.) The places named in footnotes as being included in Civil Parishes are generally localities having no defined boundaries, such as hamlets, villages, &c.
- (5.) For particulars of existing detached parts of Civil Parishes see Table 13; and for changes in the boundaries of Civil Parishes effected by the Local Government Acts of 1888 and 1894, and by Local Acts since 1891, see Table 14. In all Districts and Sub-Districts marked + changes were made in boundaries between the Census of 1891 and that of 1901. Full particulars of the alterations have been published in the Registrar-General's Annual Reports.
- (6.) Revised areas of Civil Parishes have been furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department; for the area of the tidal water and foreshore comprised in Civil Parishes see Table 15.

* In 1891 the Tenements were abstracted for the County of Lincoln as then constituted for Registration purposes; in order to make these figures comparable with those for the aggregate of the Administrative Counties together with County Boroughs in 1901, it has been necessary to make approximate adjustments.

* Changes were made in the boundaries of some of the Registration Districts during the intercensal period. In the Table the enumerated populations of every such District for 1891 and 1901 are given—first for the District as constituted at the Census of 1891, and then for the District as constituted by each successive change. The dates from which the changed areas were adopted for tabulation of Births and Deaths are shown in the first column. In calculating the Increase or Decrease of Population (Col. 7) approximate allowance has been made for variations caused by changes of boundary. Owing to this method of calculation, the increase of population shown in Column 7 differs fractionally from that derivable from the figures for the entire County in Table 1 and for the individual Registration Districts in Table 12 which relate to those areas as constituted at the time of the Census of 1901.

† Grimsby was separated from Caistor and made a separate Registration District on 1st January, 1897; the figures in the Table are given as if the change had been made at the Census of 1891.

NOTE.—In classifying the people by their Occupations the following rules have been observed :—Persons returned as engaged in more than one occupation have been referred to the occupation which in each case appeared to be the most important; or, if there was no difference in this respect, to the occupation first mentioned in the Return. Thus, a manufacturing trade has been selected in preference to a selling trade. A Clergyman who is also a Schoolmaster has been classed under the heading "Schoolmaster." Persons returned as "Pensioners" or as "Retired" from any specified profession or business (except Officers of the Army or Navy, Clergymen, and Medical Men) appear in this Table as simply "Pensioners" or "Retired" (see Order XXIII.), but are classified in Table 34 according to their former occupations. Inmates of Lunatic Asylums or of Workhouses, when returned as Insane and yet described by their former occupations, have—irrespective of age—been classed as "Retired." Other inmates of Workhouses, unless aged 60 years or upwards, and Patients in Hospitals and Prisoners of all ages, have been classed under their stated occupations on the assumption that their ordinary work has been relinquished for a time only. Inmates of Workhouses aged 60 years and upwards, whose former occupations were returned, have been dealt with as "Retired."

The numbers given under any heading include Apprentices, Assistants, Workmen, and Labourers, as well as Masters, except where special headings are provided for subordinates. Messengers, Errand Boys, Porters, and Watchmen are, however, shown under a separate heading, and Clerks are classified as Civil Service Clerks, Bank Clerks, Railway Clerks, Insurance Clerks, or Commercial Clerks, according to the particular service in which they are engaged.

In some cases women and children, chiefly widows or orphans carrying on the business of their husbands or fathers, are classed under Occupations commonly followed only by adult men.

In the list of Occupations the Male designations only are given for convenience, except where the occupations are exclusively followed by Females.

The figures in italics for Females at the head of the Table relate to the Married or Widowed.

Of the foregoing, 5 Males and 1 Female were returned in 1901 as Persons suffering from Combined Infirmities "from Childhood."

* The figures given for 1891 relate to the County of Lincoln as then constituted for Registration purposes, while those for 1901 relate to the Administrative Counties of Holland, Kesteven, and Lindsey, together with County Boroughs in the aggregate. The differences in the constitution of the two areas should be borne in mind in dealing with these figures—see Table 2.

† Of the 188 Persons in 1901 classified in the Table as Deaf and Dumb, 18 Males and 13 Females, respectively, were returned simply as "Dumb," as were also 13 Males and 5 Females classified as Deaf and Dumb from Childhood. The figures regarding the Deaf and Dumb from Childhood are based on the descriptions given in the Schedules, and must be regarded as incomplete.

‡ The Census Schedule did not require persons who were Deaf without being Dumb to mention the fact of their Deafness, and therefore the figures given for the "Deaf" cannot be regarded as complete.

§ In 1891 the heading of the Census Schedule was "Lunatic, Imbecile, or Idiot," and the persons so returned were eventually classed as "Mentally Deranged." In 1901 the heading of the Schedule provided for two categories of the Mentally Deranged, viz., "Lunatic," and "Imbecile, Feeble-minded," and in drawing comparisons from the figures for the two Censuses, allowance should be made for these differences. The figures for 1891 for the new sub-divisions of Mentally Deranged cannot therefore be given. Total "Lunatic, Imbecile, and Feeble-minded," 1901:—1,756 Persons, 840 Males, 916 Females. Total "Mentally Deranged," 1891:—1,271 Persons, 620 Males, 651 Females.

NOTE.—The numbers of persons returned in the several Administrative areas as suffering from one or other Infirmary mainly depend upon the presence or absence of Institutions in which many of such persons might be resident. Thus, while of the 1,038 Lunatic, Imbecile, or Feeble-minded enumerated in the area administered by the Kesteven County Council 119 were resident in the Kesteven County Asylum at Grantham, 758 were enumerated in the Lindsey and Holland Counties Asylum, situated at Bracebridge Heath.

* These figures include 18 Males and 13 Females returned simply as "Dumb."
† These persons are also included in the Totals of the several Infirmitities from which they suffer. These so afflicted "from Childhood" numbered 6.

CENSUS OF 1901.

TO THE RIGHT HONOURABLE WALTER HUME LONG, M.P., PRESIDENT OF THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD, etc.

DECEMBER 30th, 1901.

SIR,—

We have now the honour to present to you complete Statistical Tables for the County of London, being the first instalment of the Detailed Abstract of the Census Returns which we are required to prepare under the Census (Great Britain) Act, 1900. Tables for other Counties similar in principle, but not necessarily elaborated in equal detail, are in course of preparation and will be issued in succession. The Tables to which a letter is attached after the number are those which may be given or not, as the circumstances of each County seem to require.

We reserve our critical and detailed Report until the issue of the County Parts is complete, and we thus become enabled to treat of England and Wales as a whole; but it seems to us desirable to preface our first Part, giving Statistics for the County of London, with some remarks explanatory of the Tables which follow, and of the principal modifications which distinguish them from the Tables in the Census Report for 1891.

The Tables dealing with Areas, Houses and Population, numbered from 1 to 22, are arranged so as to apply first to the Ancient County, secondly to the Administrative County, and thirdly to the Registration County. The Areas, which constitute or are included within these several kinds of County, are as follows:—

1. Ancient County—Parliamentary Constituencies (Table 4) and Ecclesiastical Parishes (Table 5). It is to be observed, in parenthesis, that there is no Ancient County of London, the County of London having been constituted an Administrative area from parts of the Ancient Counties of Middlesex, Surrey, and Kent by the Local Government Act, 1888;
2. Administrative County—Petty Sessional Divisions (Table 7), Urban and Rural Districts (Tables 9 and 10), and Civil Parishes (Table 11);
3. Registration County—Registration Districts (usually identical with Poor Law Unions or Parishes) and Sub-Districts and their Constituent Civil Parishes (Table 12).

The differences between the three kinds of County will be set out in detail in Table 2. The Administrative County of London, which is co-extensive with the Registration County, is exceptional in that no Rural Districts lie within its limits, while the City of London and the 28 newly-constituted Metropolitan Boroughs, as independent Sanitary areas, have their counterparts in the County and Municipal Boroughs and Urban Districts of other Counties.

We deem it necessary to draw prominent attention to the opinion we have been compelled to adopt that the Returns as to “Houses” are, in many cases, unsatisfactory and, to some extent, misleading. The Returns received by us have been carefully revised, and the result has been to disclose differences in certain Districts as compared with the Returns for 1891 that are quite incompatible with any possible change in the amount of residential accommodation. We further refer to this subject by a note at the head of Table 12.

The following represent the more important alterations we have made in the form, or in the matter, of the Tables (Nos. 1 to 22) which refer to Areas, Houses and Population:—

1. Comparative Figures for the previous Census are now, for the first time, given in certain Tables, such as the Parliamentary Constituencies Table (No. 4) and the Civil Parishes Table (No. 11).
2. Uninhabited Houses are divided into two groups in compliance with Section 5:2 of the Census Act, and are classed in separate columns as "In Occupation" and "Not in Occupation." All Houses in which no person abode on the night of the Census are classed as "Uninhabited": of such "Uninhabited" Houses those which were in general occupation for business or other purposes are placed under the Sub-Heading "In Occupation."
3. The area of Inland Waters is shown separately in Table 12, thus enabling us to avoid recapitulation of a long list of Parishes in Table 15, which is now limited to those few Parishes containing Tidal Water or Foreshore.
4. To obtain space for the foregoing additions, we no longer publish in Table 12 comparative figures for 1891 of "Uninhabited Houses" and "Houses Building."
5. A new Table (No. 3) is inserted to show the growth of the population of each County since the first Census of 1801. The area dealt with will be that of the Ancient County in every case except that of London, the figures for which relate to the Administrative County as now constituted.
6. A Table (No. 14) setting forth the changes that have taken place in the boundaries of Civil Parishes since the Census of 1891—especially under the Local Government Acts of 1888 and 1894, and under the London Government Act of 1899—has been rendered necessary by the numerous alterations effected under the provisions of these Acts. It will be seen that the alterations in Parish boundaries effected by the London Act amount to no fewer than 347, and it will be readily understood how seriously the difficulties of taking the Census by our Local Officers and of tabulating the results by our Central Staff have been aggravated by these changes of boundary, many of which involved very diminutive areas, and which were timed to take effect a few days before the Census Schedules were collected.
7. We have expanded the "Tenements" Table (No. 19) so as to show the comparative numbers of each class of tenements, with the numbers of Families or Separate Occupiers in 1891 and 1901.
8. To the Table (No. 22), dealing with the number of Births and Deaths registered in each Registration District in the last Intercensal period, we have added a column showing the gain or loss by migration to or from the District.

In treating of the classification of the people as to Age, Civil Condition, Occupation, Birth-place, and Infirmities, we have to report modifications of a more far-reaching character. Statistics concerning these matters have hitherto been published in a separate volume after the issue of the volumes containing the various Tables for Areas, Houses and Population. By publishing complete statistics for each County in turn, we hope, not only to present the facts earlier, but to make our volumes more accessible and more useful to the public.

It is, however, necessary to point out that in those Counties in which a great Town, such as Liverpool, Birmingham, or Bristol, lies upon the borders of another County [and in a still more marked degree in the County of London, which contains part only of the population having the Metropolis for its centre], the statistics of the people enumerated as dwelling within their borders do not represent the whole facts of the case. Asylums for the Insane and Institutions for other public purposes often lie beyond the limits of the Counties in question, and afford accommodation for large numbers of Persons who ordinarily reside within those Counties; and conversely these Institutions will unduly swell the numbers of such Persons in the Counties in which they are situated. Similarly very large numbers of Persons may habitually earn their livelihood in a bordering Town, but may be enumerated as residents in a County other than that in which the Town is placed.

In dealing with Ages we have, in order to meet representations which have been made to us, abstracted the population at each year of age from 13 to 21, thus augmenting the number of Age periods from 25 to 32.

Conditions as to Marriage, tabulated in 15 Age periods, are given for Metropolitan and County Boroughs and for Urban Districts having populations of 50,000 and upwards; publication of the same particulars for Registration Districts is now discontinued on the ground that their public utility is not so great as to justify the expenditure of the requisite amount of space.

We introduce a Table (No. 29) showing, in Combination, the Ages of Husbands and Wives. We believe that this Table, which has had no place in the Census Reports since 1871, will be of considerable public interest.

We have given special attention to the Tables showing the Occupations of the People.

Having received communications from the Home Office and from the Board of Trade to the effect that certain changes in the system of classification would greatly enhance the value to them, for legislative and other uses, of the Occupational Statistics collected at the Census, we had many conferences with the representatives of the two Departments; and, in order to meet their views and to bring the Census Statistics published by us into closer harmony with the statistics issued by the two Departments, we have, to a considerable extent, recast our Classification. Material changes of this nature have this undoubted disadvantage, that comparison with the results of previous Censuses is rendered more difficult. We shall, however, deal at length with this branch of the subject in our Final Report, and shall in the meantime give in the Summary for each County such comparative figures respecting the more important Occupations as the facts at our disposal may warrant. The total number of Occupational Headings has been augmented from 347 to 379, and this number would have been still greater had we not deleted many occupations giving employment to quite an insignificant number of persons. We have thus found room for further sub-division on a very considerable scale, and for the separate tabulation of Occupations which on former occasions have been included under some more general appellation. Among the more important objects of the sub-division referred to, the attempted separation of Dealers from Makers, and in certain cases, of Skilled Artizans from Labourers may be particularly mentioned. We are uncertain whether, notwithstanding our unsparing efforts to impress upon Occupiers the importance of precision in describing each person's occupation, the results secured will be of a completely trustworthy character; but we defer dealing with this point also until our Final Report, and we meantime give, without comment, the figures as abstracted from the Census Schedules.

We have also provided, at the urgent request of the Departments before mentioned, a new column for a Return of persons stated to be working "At Home," and we continue to give Statistics as to "Employers," "Working for Employers," etc., in the same form as in the Census Report of 1891.

In addition to the foregoing alterations, we have introduced important extensions in the form of publication of the Occupation Tables, which now show, for the County of London, the number of Males and Females engaged in each of the 379 Occupations, in ten groups of Ages. Similar information was given only in the Summary Table for England and Wales after the Census of 1891. The first group given in 1891, 10 years and under 15, is now sub-divided into two groups (10 years and under 14, and 14 years and under 15). In a Supplementary Table (No. 33) the first of these groups (10 to 14) is sub-divided into individual years. An extra column has also been inserted in Table 32 for the age group 65 to 75. Furthermore we have analyzed the Returns dealing with Females and have given figures for the Unmarried as distinguished from the Married or Widowed. In order to find space for the double line of figures thus required we have omitted those Occupations in which Females are not employed to any extent. We also issue a Table (No. 34) showing the Occupations in which Persons, describing themselves as Pensioned or Retired, were formerly engaged, and a new Table (No. 35A) giving the number of Separate Occupiers or Families and of Male and Female Domestic Servants, and showing the proportion of Domestic Servants employed to each 100 Families.

For the City of London and for each of the 28 Metropolitan Boroughs—and in future Parts for the County Boroughs, and for each Urban District in which the Population exceeds 50,000 Persons—we publish a condensed List of Occupations at five Age-periods.

Referring to Statistics dealing with Birthplaces, we have specially to draw attention to Table 37, in which we have introduced comparative columns showing the increase or decrease of Foreigners since 1891. We also publish a Table (No. 37A), giving the Sex and Condition as to Marriage in Age-periods, not merely of Europeans, but of all persons of Foreign Birth—not being British subjects—ranged under 24 Countries or groups of Countries. Furthermore, in view of the exceptional importance of the question of Foreign Immigration, and of the employment of Foreigners whilst in England, we publish in Table 37B a Return of the Occupations, by Sexes, of the Natives of the same Countries.

Turning lastly to the Statistics dealing with Infirmities, the most important change consists in the attempted differentiation of “Lunatics” from “Imbeciles or Feeble-Minded.” This attempt has been made in deference to influential representations that have been made to us, but we are in doubt as to the value of the results and we therefore reserve our judgment. In 1891 these two Classes were dealt with together, under the designation “Mentally Deranged.” We also give in the Infirmities Table (No. 38), comparative figures for 1891, as far as it has been possible to obtain them.

The Occupations of Males and Females returned as Blind, or as Deaf and Dumb, are given in Table 39A, and there also the Married or Widowed Females are distinguished from the Unmarried. The numbers of those of each Sex returned as Blind from Childhood are also stated.

Speaking generally of the Statistics herewith presented, we believe the facts are set out as fully and in as great detail as will be required by statisticians and by the public at large. If, however, information which can be derived from the Census Returns, but which is not given in this Part, or in any of the succeeding County Parts, is desired by the Council of any County, County Borough, or Urban District, we shall be prepared to furnish it—in accordance with the provisions of Section 9 of the Census Act—provided that the progress of our regular publications is not thereby retarded.

We now append some general remarks summarizing the principal results of the Census for the County of London, and we propose to preface the Tables for each succeeding County in a similar manner.

Statistics for Lancashire will next be published, and County Parts will thereafter be issued in order of population.

We have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servants,

REGINALD MACLEOD, Registrar General.

NOEL A. HUMPHREYS.

CENSUS, 1901.

COUNTY OF LONDON.

SUMMARY OF THE CENSUS RESULTS.

THE Administrative County, now co-extensive with the Registration County, of London was created under the provisions of the Local Government (England and Wales) Act, 1888, from parts of the Ancient Counties of Middlesex, Surrey, and Kent. The County of London contains, according to revised Returns furnished by His Majesty's Ordnance Survey Department, an area of 74,839 statute acres, and has a population of 4,536,541. In 1801 the population was 959,310; it has therefore increased during the Century nearly five-fold. The highest intercensal rate of increase (21·2 per cent.) was in the decennial period terminating in 1851; with the exception of a small rise in the period 1871-81, a decline in the rate has been in steady progress since that date; and the lowest rate of increase (7·3 per cent.) is that of the intercensal period just concluded. That the rate of growth of population within the area of London still continues to diminish is shown by the fact that the increase from 1891 to 1896, the year of the Intermediate Census, was 201,212, or 4·8 per cent., whereas from 1896 to 1901 it was no more than 107,012, or 2·4 per cent., on the Census figures for the former year.

POPULATION,
TABLES
1 AND 3.

The enumerated population of the County of London showed an increase of 308,224 during the 10 years 1891 to 1901, but, as the natural increase during that period by excess of births over deaths was, as shown by Table 22, approximately 491,000, it follows that the loss by migration exceeded 180,000. This migration of population from London is undoubtedly one of the causes of the rapid increase of Suburban Districts lying round the County Boundary. In Table 22B it is shown that the population of the "Greater London" of the Registrar General's Weekly Return had increased by over 947,000, to which the County of London contributed only 308,000, and the Districts lying outside the County Boundary 639,000. In the City of London and six of the central Metropolitan Boroughs the enumerated population showed an actual decline of over 67,000 in the 10 years, notwithstanding that the recorded excess of Births over Deaths in that period amounted approximately to 70,000. In these Central Boroughs, with one exception, a decrease of population has regularly occurred during the last four intercensal periods, and has been due in great measure to the transformation of dwelling houses into warehouses, offices, and business premises. This centrifugal dispersion of town population is, however, shared by all great, old, and prosperous cities.

Excluding the University of London, there are, within the County, 58 Metropolitan Constituencies, one of which, the City of London, returns two Members, and each of the others, one Member. Under the London Government Act of 1899, and in consequence of certain changes of boundary, parts of the areas included in 4 Constituencies—the Dulwich Division of Camberwell, the Central Division of Finsbury, the North Division of Paddington, and the Parliamentary Borough of Wandsworth (the two last-named parts containing no population)—were transferred to other Administrative Counties: while parts of the areas of two extra-Metropolitan Constituencies—the Hornsey Division of Middlesex and the Wimbledon Division of Surrey (the latter part containing no population)—are now within the County of London.

TARY CON-
STITUENCIES,

The following Constituencies in London have populations exceeding 100,000 :—

Wandsworth	179,877	Hammersmith	111,970
Fulham	137,249	Deptford	110,122
Lewisham	128,346	Battersea	102,469
Clapham	120,761	Hackney South	101,344
Woolwich	117,170

In 1891 Wandsworth, with 113,244, and Deptford, with 101,286, were the only Metropolitan Constituencies with populations exceeding 100,000.

ECCLESIASTICAL PARISHES, TABLE 5.

There are 611 Ecclesiastical Parishes or Districts situated wholly or in part within the County of London, including the City of London. Their populations vary from 29 in the City Parish of St. Alphage, London Wall, to 30,756 in St. Luke, Chelsea, and 33,488 in St. Nicholas, Plumstead. Of the above-mentioned 611 Parishes, or parts of Parishes, there are 408 with an aggregate population of 2,786,585 within the Diocese of London; 202 Parishes with an aggregate population of 1,746,833 in that of Rochester, and part of the Parish of North Woolwich, St. John the Evangelist, with a population of 3,086, in that of St. Albans. Lambeth Palace, containing 37 persons, is in the Diocese of Canterbury.

PETTY SESSIONAL DIVISIONS, TABLE 7.

The County has one Court of Quarter Sessions, and is divided into 15 Petty Sessional Divisions, exclusive of the City of London. The entire County, including the City, is under the jurisdiction of the Central Criminal Court. [See Table 22c.]

CITY OF LONDON AND METROPOLITAN BOROUGHES, TABLES 9 AND 9A.

The County contains the City of London, and twenty-eight Metropolitan Boroughs constituted under the London Government Act, 1899. The following Table shows the increase and decrease of population since 1891 in the area covered by each of the several Boroughs and in the City of London:—

CIVIL PARISHES, TABLE 11.

The number of Civil Parishes within the County is 191. In some cases the population is very diminutive; in the City Parish of St. John the Evangelist there were only two persons enumerated on the Census night, and in many other cases, especially within the City, the population does not rise to 100. These figures may be contrasted with those of Islington having a population of 334,991, of Lambeth with 301,895, and of Camberwell with 259,339.

REGISTRATION DISTRICTS, TABLE 12.

The County of London at the time of the Census was divided into 30 Registration Districts and 114 Sub-Districts, each District being now co-extensive, except in the case of Fulham, with a Poor Law Parish or Union. In 14 instances the areas of Registration Districts correspond with those of the newly constituted Metropolitan Boroughs. In Table 12 a column is given to show the number of Families or Separate Occupiers in each Registration District, Sub-District, and Civil Parish. These numbered 1,019,546, giving an average of rather more than 4·4 persons to a family. The number of Inhabited Houses is 571,768, against 547,146 in 1891, an increase of 4·5 per cent.; of Uninhabited Houses 40,069, against 39,686 in 1891, an increase of 1·0 per cent.; and of Houses Building 4,624, against 4,194 for 1891, an increase of 10·3 per cent. The figures for the last two classes of Houses for 1891 are given in Table 1 only. Of the Uninhabited Houses 24,098 are "In Occupation"—that is, utilized for business or other purposes, but without inmates on Census night. It may be here stated, though the figures are not presented in Tabular form, that a total of 406 persons—224 males and 182 females—were enumerated as having passed the night of March 31st in Barns, Sheds, Caravans, etc.

TENEMENTS, TABLE 19.

The total number of separate Tenements, which had been 937,606 in 1891, rose to 1,019,546, the increase being equal to 8·7 per cent. Of this total the Tenements containing five or more rooms increased from 307,037 to 347,516, equal to 13·2 per cent.; while the increase of those with less than five rooms was from 630,569 to 672,030 and did not exceed 6·6 per cent. The rate of increase in the larger Tenements was therefore exactly double that shown in the smaller Tenements. Stated in another way, the Tenements with five or more rooms were equal to 32·7 per cent. of the total Tenements in 1891, and to 34·1 per cent. at the recent Census—while the percentage of the Tenements with less than five rooms declined from 67·3 to 65·9. The reduction in the number of the latter class of Tenements was most strongly marked in the Tenements of one room, which declined from 172,502 in 1891 to 149,524—that is, from 18·4 per cent. of the total Tenements to 14·7 per cent. It may further be pointed out that the number of single-room Tenements in which more than two persons were enumerated declined from 56,622 to 40,762; while the number of one-roomed Tenements with six or more inmates on the Census night declined from 4,097 to 1,802. The Tenements of two rooms showed a slight, and those of three and four rooms, a marked, increase upon the numbers returned in 1891.

The proportion of Tenements with less than five rooms, which averaged 65·9 per cent. in the County of London, showed marked variations in the Metropolitan Boroughs. The lowest percentages were 30·9 in Lewisham, 42·2 in Hampstead, and 42·3 in Wandsworth; while the highest percentages were 80·5 in Stepney, 82·9 in Southwark, 84·1 in Bethnal Green, 84·9 in Shoreditch, and 85·1 in Finsbury. The proportion of single-room Tenements (which averaged 14·7 per cent. in all London) showed still wider variations in the several Boroughs, ranging from 3·5 per cent. in Lewisham, 4·1 in Wandsworth, and 6·4 in Hampstead, to 24·8 in Shoreditch, 26·3 in St. Marylebone, 26·4 in Finsbury, and 27·0 in Holborn. It is, however, satisfactory to note that these high percentages showed in each case a decline from those that prevailed in 1891. In the Borough of Stepney, consisting of Whitechapel, St. George in the East, Stepney, and Mile End Old Town Registration Districts, which received between 1891 and 1901 a large number of foreign immigrants (Table 37), the proportion of one-room Tenements did not exceed 21·7 per cent., showing a marked decline from the proportion in 1891.

TENEMENTS IN METRO-POLITAN
BOROUGH,
TABLE 20.

This Table shows the actual increase of population, as compared with the difference between registered Births and Deaths, and has been extended by the addition of a column showing the balance of change which must be ascribed to migration. As explained in a note to the Table, the value of the figures for some Districts is impaired for comparative purposes by the existence of large Hospitals and other Institutions which receive inmates from distant places. For example, the District of Hampstead contains several Hospitals; and it is shown by Tables compiled in the General Register Office that the Deaths registered in the District during the ten years 1891–1900 exceeded the Deaths of Hampstead residents by about 3,500. As a consequence, the excess of Births over registered Deaths shown in this Table is diminished, and the apparent gain by migration is increased, by this number. The District of Southwark affords an example of an opposite character, a large number of Deaths occurring in the Southwark Workhouse Infirmary which is situated in Camberwell District. It has been found that the Deaths which occurred in Southwark in the ten years 1891–1900 were about 11,500 less than the Deaths of Southwark residents. The actual loss of Southwark by migration of resident population is, therefore, over-stated to this extent. This point will be considered more fully in the final Report, when statistics are available for the population in areas lying beyond the limits of the County of London.

MARRIAGES,
BIRTHS,
DEATHS, AND MIGRATION,
TABLE 22.

The Females enumerated in London exceed the Males by 252,371. There are 1,118 Females for every 1,000 Males, which contrasts with 1,116 for every 1,000 at the Census of 1891.

AGES,
TABLE 23.

The number of Children of School Age (three and under fourteen years) is 968,007, of whom 481,060 are Boys, and 486,947 Girls. It is to be observed, however, that the attendance at School of Children under five is not compulsory. The number of Children between five and fourteen years of age is 777,867, of whom 386,168 are Boys, and 391,699 Girls. The number of Persons 75 years of age and upwards is 52,679, and of these 18,776 are Males, and 33,903 Females. At the extreme ages the excess of Females is still more marked, and of those who claim to be aged 100 years and upwards, 19 are Females, and 5 Males.

Of the Males, 1,292,594 are Unmarried, 777,363 are Married, and 72,128 are Widowed. Of the Females, 1,403,842 are Unmarried, 793,097 are Married, and 197,517 are Widowed.

CONDITION AS
TO MARRIAGE,

The following Table shows the percentages for 1891 and 1901 :—

Widowed	3·2	3·4	5·8	5·7	8·4	8·2	14·2	13·4

It may be noted from the figures in this Table that the proportions of the married to the population at all ages is now higher than it was in 1891, owing to the decrease in the proportion of children through the decline in the birth-rate. The proportion of the married, however, if calculated on the population aged upwards of twenty years, is distinctly lower than it was ten years ago, both among Males and Females.

The number of Males under 21 returned as Married is 2,809, and the number of Females 10,529. There are also 21 Widowers and 73 Widows under 21 years of age.

AGES OF HUSBANDS
AND WIVES
IN COM-BINATION,
TABLE 29.

There are in London 730,062 cases in which the Husband and Wife are both enumerated in the same Schedule, and are therefore presumably living together: and in addition there are 47,301 Husbands whose Wives were absent—that is, were not enumerated in the same Schedule; and 63,035 Wives whose Husbands were absent, on Census Night.

WORKHOUSES,
TABLE 30.

Pauper Inmates of Workhouse Establishments situated within the County numbered 46,646 Persons at all ages, of whom 25,011 were Males and 21,635 Females. This represents approximately 1 per cent. of the general Population, but at advanced ages the proportion rapidly increases. At 55 years and upwards the proportion per cent. of the London population in such Workhouses is 6·6, and at 65 years and upwards, 11·2.

PRISONS,
TABLE 31.

Prisoners in Local and Convict Prisons numbered 4,167. Of these 3,537 were Males and 630 Females. Their ages and civil conditions are shown in the Table.

OCCUPATIONS,
TABLE 32.

The following figures give a summary view of the Occupational statistics for the County of London :—

	Males.	Females.
Total Population	2,142,085	2,394,456
Population under 10 years of age	468,200	470,088
Population 10 years of age and upwards	1,673,885	1,924,368
Unoccupied Persons 10 years of age and upwards ...	273,916	1,205,037
Persons engaged in occupations 10 years of age and upwards	1,399,969	719,331

In 1891 the percentage of the total population aged 10 years and upwards engaged in occupations was in the case of Males 82·8, in the case of Females 38·4. In 1901 the percentages are 83·6 and 37·4 respectively.

The numbers classed under any occupational heading at the two Censuses are affected by (1) Changes in the Method of Classification at the Census Office, (2) Changes in the Mode of Filling up the Schedules, (3) Actual Changes in the Numbers of People following an occupation.

Care has been taken that the figures given in the following Table are vitiated as little as possible by either of the first two preceding considerations.

While it is known whether or not any occupational heading or group is affected by a change of the first kind, the second kind of change is more difficult to detect. There should be (and, in fact, is) a tendency to return occupations more definitely and more correctly at every succeeding Census. This, while it increases the value of the later figures in themselves, impairs them for purposes of comparison with those for earlier Censuses. Thus, out of a number of men who would have called themselves "Merchants," "Shop-keepers," "Labourers," in 1891, a considerable proportion gave the more precise information in 1901 that they were merchants or shop-keepers dealing in some specific article, or labourers at some special trade, such as "Bricklayers' Labourers," "Masons' Labourers," etc. From the very nature of things the amount of the transfer from one occupational heading to another in this way can only be estimated approximately.

The above difficulties will be found to apply to the case of England and Wales as a whole. In dealing with any separate part, and especially with such a part as London, another disturbing influence comes in—the decentralizing tendency—the tendency of the population to push out for residential purposes beyond the limits of the County of London, while their daily avocations of trade, etc., are still pursued within those limits.

The peculiar difficulties attendant upon the presentation of comparative occupation figures for London lie in the fact that the County of London, great though its population be, is not a body complete in itself: it is, in fact, only the heart or working centre of a vastly larger area the boundaries of which, while always extending, can never admit of accurate definition.

In selecting the following occupational headings or groups for comparison, care has been taken to omit occupations directly liable to errors from alterations of classification or of methods of return, but for the foregoing reasons they must be regarded rather as items of individual interest than as complete statistical returns.

In various industries persons who work "At Home" have for the first time been required to state the fact. Of the Males working "At Home," 7,640 are Boot and Shoe Makers, 7,415 are Tailors, and 1,433 Cabinet Makers. Of the Females working "At Home" 32,940 are Dressmakers, Milliners, Staymakers, Shirtmakers, and Seamstresses, 10,408 are engaged in Laundry and Washing Service, and 8,163 are Tailors.

It has already been stated that Females have been abstracted separately as "Unmarried" and "Married or Widowed." Of the 719,331 Females over 10 years of age engaged in Occupations 548,721 or 76.3 per cent. are in the former category, and 170,610 or 23.7 per cent. in the latter. Among the occupations in which Married or Widowed Females are principally engaged are Laundry and Washing Service with 27,204—of whom 7,604 work "At Home"—against 20,158 Unmarried; Charwomen with 21,624 Married, against 4,327 Unmarried; Dressmakers, Milliners, Staymakers, Shirtmakers, and Seamstresses with 24,818 Married—of whom 14,605 work "At Home"—against 80,700 Unmarried; and 11,567 Tailors Married—of whom 4,572 work "At Home"—against 21,547 Unmarried.

The total number of Boys aged 10 and under 14 years in the County of London is 165,881, and of these 5,876 are engaged in occupations. Out of this last total 5,186 or 88.3 per cent. are between 13 and 14 years of age; 73 or 1.2 per cent. are between 10 and 11, 155 or 2.6 per cent. between 11 and 12, and 462 or 7.9 per cent. between 12 and 13. Nearly one half are employed as Messengers, 2,517 working for private persons, and 340 for Government; 365 work as, or for, Carmen, Carriers, or Carters, 186 as Costermongers or Street Sellers, 153 as Milk Sellers. All these occupations are largely out of door leaving a small proportion only for employment in Indoor Work or in Factories. Commercial Clerks number 234, and Indoor Domestic Servants 149. Among actual trades, Printing is the most popular, occupying 228 Boys of whom all but 8 are over 13.

The total number of Girls aged from 10 to 14 is 169,306, and of these 2,381 are engaged in occupations; 29 or 1·2 per cent. are between 10 and 11; 52 or 2·2 per cent. between 11 and 12; 160 or 6·7 per cent. between 12 and 13, leaving 2,140 or 89·9 per cent. of the whole between 13 and 14. Domestic Indoor Service provides employment for 839; Dress, with its various sub-divisions, for 463; 107 are Messengers; 90 Bookbinders; 85 Paper Box or Bag Makers, and 50 are engaged in Tobacco Manufacture.

The total number of Males returned as Pensioned or "Retired," other than Army and Navy Officers, Clergymen and members of the Medical Profession, is 35,121, being in the proportion of 2·5 per cent. to the number engaged in Occupations, as compared with 28,613 or 2·3 per cent. in 1891. The number of "Retired" Males enumerated in Workhouses and Workhouse Infirmarys who returned their previous Occupations is 13,753, and those in Lunatic Asylums 1,101, making a total of 14,854. Of Pensioned or Retired Males 22,697, being 64·6 per cent., were 65 years and upwards, and 8,639, being 24·6 per cent., were between 55 and 65, while 3,785 or 10·8 per cent. were under 55 years of age. (See Note at head of Table 34.)

The total number of Pensioned or Retired Females is 15,396, being in the proportion of 2·1 per cent. of the number engaged in Occupations, as compared with 14,573 or 2·2 per cent. in 1891. The number in Workhouses and Workhouse Infirmarys is 9,858, and in Lunatic Asylums 515, making a total of 10,373. Of Pensioned or Retired Females 11,059, being 71·8 per cent., are 65 years and upwards, and 3,168, being 20·6 per cent., are between 55 and 65, leaving 1,169, or 7·6 per cent., under 55.

It is noteworthy that among the "Retired" Males there were enumerated in Workhouse Establishments and Lunatic Asylums 2,536 of the 2,686 General Labourers, 599 of the 754 Painters, Decorators, and Glaziers, and 511 of the 818 Carpenters and Joiners. Among the "Retired" Females there were enumerated in these Institutions 2,666 of the 3,407 Indoor Domestic Servants, 1,786 of the 1,822 Charwomen, and 1,273 of the 1,363 Shirtmakers and Seamstresses.

Of the whole number of Retired Females 4,015 were Unmarried, and 11,381 were Married or Widowed.

Table 35 sets forth the Occupations of the People by Sexes, and in five Groups of Ages, for the City of London and for each of the Metropolitan Boroughs. The Total Population over 10 of Unmarried and of Married or Widowed Females, and the number of each Class engaged in Occupations, is given separately. The proportion of Unmarried Females engaged in Occupations to the Total Unmarried Female Population over 10 Years of Age, and the proportion of Married or Widowed Females engaged in Occupations to the Total of Married or Widowed Females, vary greatly, and the percentages for each Borough are here given:—

OCCUPATIONS
IN METRO-POLITAN
BOROUGH,
TABLE 35.

The number of Separate Occupiers or Families in the County of London is 1,019,546, and the number of Male Indoor Domestic Servants—not including those employed in Hotels, Lodging, and Eating Houses—is 15,425, and of Female, 234,398. Hence, the number of Male Servants to every 100 Families is 1·5, and the number of Female Servants 23·0. The proportions vary, in the different Metropolitan Boroughs, to a striking degree. In Bermondsey, Deptford, and Poplar, the Male Indoor Servants number 0·1 only to every 100 Families. In the City of Westminster the proportion is 12·5, in Chelsea 7·8, in St. Marylebone 5·3, and in Kensington 5·1. Female Service varies in equal degree. Shoreditch with 5·5 and Bethnal Green with 5·6 Female Domestic Servants to each 100 Families, stand lowest; Bermondsey with 6·5, Southwark with 7·4, Finsbury with 7·8, Poplar with 8·0, and Stepney with 8·6 contrast with Hampstead having 79·8, Kensington 74·9, City of Westminster 53·3, and Chelsea 47·4. Taking Male and Female Servants together, Hampstead with 81·4 and Kensington with 80·0 for every 100 Families, stand highest.

PROPORTION
SERVANTS TO OCCUPIERS,
TABLE 35A.

Of the 4,536,541 persons enumerated in the County of London, 3,016,580 were natives of London; 35,421 were born in Wales and Monmouth, being an increase of 4,129 since 1891; 56,605 in Scotland, an increase of 3,215; 60,211 in Ireland, a decrease of 6,254; and 33,350 in British Colonies or Dependencies. Persons of Foreign birth numbered 161,222, and of these 20,224 were British subjects, 5,621 were naturalized British subjects, and 135,377 were Foreigners; an increase in the case of the last-named of 40,324 since 1891.

BIRTHPLACES,
TABLE 36.

Of the 135,377 Foreigners 79,804 are Males, and 55,573 Females. Natives of Russia are now the most numerous, having increased since the last Census from 12,034 to 38,117. Germany stands second with 27,427, having, however, increased by no more than 507 persons since 1891. Russian Poland follows with 15,420, showing also only a trivial increase. France is fourth in importance with 11,264—no material increase; and Italy fifth with 10,889, or more than double the number returned in 1891. Foreigners are scattered throughout London, but a very large proportion, no less than 54,310, or 40 per cent. of the whole, are in the Metropolitan Borough of Stepney [including Whitechapel, Mile End Old Town, and St. George in the East], of the population of which Borough they constitute 18·2 per cent. The following Metropolitan Boroughs, besides Stepney, contain each more than 5,000 foreigners:—

TABLE 37.

1. Westminster, City of	11,831	3. Holborn	5,706
2. St. Pancras	8,156	4. St. Marylebone	5,560

The Married Foreigners number 65,666, the Unmarried 63,369, and the Widowed 6,342. The proportion of Foreigners under 15 years of age, viz., 9·8 per cent., is very small in comparison with the proportion of persons under that age in the general population, viz., 29·9 per cent. This may be largely accounted for by the fact that the children of foreign parents born in England are not abstracted as Foreigners. On the other hand, the proportions from 20 to 25 years, 17·4 per cent., and from 25 to 35 years, 28·8 per cent., are very much greater than the proportions in the general population, which are 10·5 and 17·8 per cent. respectively.

FOREIGNERS,
CONDITION AS TO MARRIAGE,
AND AGES,
TABLE 37A.

Table 37B shows the occupations of persons of Foreign birth enumerated in the County of London. Out of 20,519 Males of Russian birth, 17,196 are returned as engaged in occupations. Of this number, 6,595 are Tailors, 2,158 Bootmakers, and 1,602 Cabinet Makers.

FOREIGNERS,
OCCUPATIONS,
MALES,
TABLE 37B.

Of the 8,155 Males of Russian-Polish birth, 6,968 are returned as engaged in occupations, and of this number 3,475 are Tailors.

Germany, with 15,902 Males engaged in occupations, supplies 1,997 Bread and Biscuit Makers and Dealers, 1,577 Servants (not Domestic) in Hotels and Eating Houses, 1,305 Tailors, 1,303 Commercial Clerks, and 1,115 Wigmakers or Hairdressers.

France, with 4,522 Males engaged in occupations, furnishes 684 Cooks (not Domestic) and 391 Commercial Clerks.

Italy, with 7,494 Males returned as engaged in occupations, comes next to Germany with 1,150 Servants (not Domestic) in Hotels, etc., and next to France with 488 Cooks (not Domestic). The occupations which Italians seem to have made specially their own are two in number—1,037 are Costermongers and Hawkers, out of a total of 1,753 Foreigners pursuing that calling, and 325 are Paviours, out of a total of 340.

Sweden and Norway are remarkable as providing respectively 400 and 554 Seamen.

FOREIGNERS,
OCCUPATIONS,
FEMALES,
TABLE 37B.

The leading Occupations of Female Foreigners are—Domestic Indoor Service, in which Germany stands first with 2,194, France second with 1,205, and Switzerland third with 651; Tailoring, in which Russia leads with 1,814, Poland follows with 789, and Germany comes third with 406; Dressmaking, engaged in which there are 717 Frenchwomen, 355 Russians, and 207 Germans; and Teaching, in which France supplies 399 School Mistresses, etc., Germany 352, and Switzerland 136.

Of minor Occupations, Russia and Holland provide the great majority of Foreigners of both sexes engaged in Tobacco Manufacture; the United States of America three-fifths of those returned as "Actors"; and Germany predominates in the trade in Watches and Scientific Instruments.

THE BLIND,
THE DEAF
AND DUMB,
THE DEAF, AND
THE INSANE,
TABLE 38.

The number of persons returned as "Blind" is 3,556, and of these 113 suffer from some other infirmity. The former figure compares with 3,573 in 1891.

Similarly, Deaf and Dumb persons, including 132 who are said to be Dumb only, number 2,057, as against 2,128 in 1891. Of these, 19 persons returned as Deaf and Dumb, and 14 as Dumb only, suffer from some other infirmity. Lunatics now number 3,562—including 22 afflicted with some other infirmity; and Imbecile and Feeble-minded 3,496—including 53 otherwise afflicted. The total of these two classes is 7,058, against 5,771 in 1891. In drawing comparisons from these figures, attention must be paid to the fact that the heading to the Infirmities column of the Census Schedule was not identical at the two Censuses. In 1891 the words adopted were "Lunatic, Imbecile, or Idiot," and this expression might have led to more frequent concealment of cases of mental derangement than the form of words adopted for the recent Census, when Occupiers were invited to describe the afflicted person either under the title "Lunatic" or under that of "Imbecile, Feeble-minded."

THE BLIND,
THE DEAF
AND DUMB,
OCCUPATIONS
OF, TABLE 39A.

Of the 3,556 persons returned as Blind, 140 were under 10 years of age, and 2,558 were Retired or Unoccupied, leaving 858, or about one-quarter of the whole, engaged in work. Of these 673 were Males and 185 Females; of the Females 110 were Unmarried and 75 Married or Widowed. Those described as Blind from Childhood included 88 Occupied Males and 42 Occupied Females.

Of the Blind, 122 Persons were Workers in Willow, Cane, or Rush; 90 were Musicians; 76 Costermongers; 49 Brush or Broom Makers, and 45 Musical Instrument Makers and Tuners.

Of the 2,057 persons classed as Deaf and Dumb, 297 were under 10 years of age, and 773 were Retired or Unoccupied, leaving 987, or almost one-half, engaged in work. Of these, 675 were Males and 312 Females. Of the Occupied Females, 254 were Unmarried and 58 Married or Widowed.

Of the Deaf and Dumb, 94 were Tailors, 72 Boot and Shoe Makers, and 71 Dressmakers; 55 were engaged in Laundry and Washing Service; 44 were Domestic Indoor Servants, and 40 Bookbinders.

It is to be observed that the figures given in this Summary apply exclusively to persons enumerated as having passed the night of March 31st, 1901, within the County of London. Thus, persons engaged in Occupations carried on outside the borders may be included in the figures now presented, and persons working within the borders, but residing outside, will not be included. Similarly, persons in Asylums, Hospitals, Workhouses, Prisons, and other Institutions may be included, although they form no part of the ordinary population of London, and others belonging to that population will not be included where the Asylums, etc., lie outside the limits of the County.

* For explanation of the subdivision of Uninhabited Houses in this and in succeeding Tables, see Introductory Remarks.
† The figures for the City of London, and for the Administrative County exclusive of the City, are given separately in Table 6.

TABLE 2.—DIFFERENCES between the ANCIENT, ADMINISTRATIVE, and REGISTRATION COUNTIES.

The Administrative and Registration Counties of London are co-extensive, and consist of parts of the Ancient Counties of Middlesex, Surrey, and Kent.

TABLE 3.—ADMINISTRATIVE COUNTY, including CITY of LONDON.—POPULATION at each SUCCESSIVE CENSUS with INCREASE per cent. of POPULATION during each INTERCENSAL PERIOD.

NOTE.—By the London Government Act, 1899, the area of the Administrative County of London was thus altered; besides certain other rectifications of boundary which involved very slight changes, the Civil Parish of Penge was severed from the County, as was also a detached part of Clerkenwell situated at Muswell Hill, while the Civil Parish of South Hornsey, formerly part of Hornsey Parish, was added to the County. The population of South Hornsey prior to 1881 is not known, but an estimate has been made for each of the earlier periods, the figures for which are therefore to this slight extent only approximative.
* In London a special intermediate Census was taken in 1896. The Parish of South Hornsey did not then form part of the Administrative County, but an estimate for this Parish is included in the figures for that year. The increase of population per cent. in the present area of the County in the five years 1891-96 was 4·8, and in the succeeding five years it was 2·4 on the population of 1896.

TABLE 4.—PARLIAMENTARY BOROUGHES and DIVISIONS.—AREA; HOUSES 1901, and POPULATION 1891 and 1901.

NOTE.—The limits of Parliamentary Constituencies were fixed by the Redistribution of Seats Act of 1885, and were not altered by the provisions of the London Government Act of 1899. In consequence of alterations in the boundary of the Administrative County effected under the provisions of the last-named Act, certain Constituencies are partly within and partly without the County of London. In such cases the figures for the part of the Constituency within the County of London are alone given in the Table, while those for the entire Constituency are stated in a Footnote.

TABLE 9.—METROPOLITAN BOROUGHES, with their CONSTITUENT CIVIL PARISHES and WARDS.—AREA; HOUSES 1901, and POPULATION 1891 and 1901.

NOTE.—By the London Government Act, 1899, and by Orders in Council in conformity with the provisions of the Act, the Administrative County of London, exclusive of the City of London, was divided into the twenty-eight Metropolitan Boroughs shown in this Table. Owing to the complicated changes thus effected the populations of the several Wards of the Metropolitan Boroughs at the Census of 1891 cannot be given. The numbers in parenthesis following the names of the Civil Parishes refer to the Registration Districts and Sub-Districts within which the several Parishes are situated. See Table 12.

TABLE 12.—REGISTRATION COUNTY, DISTRICTS, and SUB-DISTRICTS, with their constituent CIVIL PARISHES.—AREA; HOUSES and POPULATION 1891 and 1901, and SEPARATE OCCUPIERS 1901.

EXPLANATORY NOTES.

(1.) Particulars of existing detached parts of Civil Parishes are shown in Table 13, and the changes in the boundaries of Civil Parishes effected under the London Government Act (1899) are shown in Table 14.
(2.) The places named in footnotes as being included in Civil Parishes are generally localities having no defined boundaries.
(3.) Revised areas of Civil Parishes have been furnished by the Ordnance Survey Department; for the area of the Tidal Water and Foreshore comprised in Civil Parishes, see Table 15.
(4.) For Census purposes a block of model dwellings or residential mansions is counted as a single house whatever may be the number of separate tenements; at the Census of 1891 in some cases the local Registrars failed to observe this rule and returned each tenement as a house; consequently the numbers of inhabited houses enumerated in 1891 and 1901 have in many cases little value for comparative purposes. The Parishes of St. George Hanover Square, Bethnal Green, St. Botolph without Aldgate (Whitechapel), and Horsleydown may be cited as extreme instances in point.

NOTE.—In addition to the Parochial changes specified in the Table, which all took effect before the date of the Census, the Tower of London was united on 15th June, 1901, under the provisions of the same Act, to the Civil Parish of St. Botolph (Without) Aldgate, in the Metropolitan Borough of Stepney.

* The references in this Column are to numbered areas coloured green on the Official Maps of the Boroughs from which the areas were respectively transferred. The name of the Borough is shown in parenthesis after the name of the Civil Parish in those cases where the two names are not identical.

a The Civil Parishes of Charlton next Woolwich and Kidbrooke were united, under the provisions of the London Government Act (1899), as one Civil Parish of Charlton and Kidbrooke.

b Detached part of Mitcham Parish added to the Civil Parish of Tooting Graveney.

c The entire former Civil Parish of South Hornsey, except the areas coloured green and numbered 13A and 20 on the Official Map of the Borough of Stoke Newington.

* The figures for 1891 refer to the County of London as then constituted. The slight changes which have since been made in the area (see Note to Table 3) do not seriously affect the value of the figures for purposes of comparison.
NOTE.—The Table is to be read as follows:—Of the 1,019,546 tenements, 672,030 were tenements of less than five rooms, and of these 149,524 were tenements of one room, 201,431 of two rooms, etc.; and of the 149,524 tenements of one room, 60,421 were occupied by one person each, 48,341 by two persons each, etc. Table 20 is to be read in a similar manner.

TABLE 22.—AGGREGATE NUMBERS of MARRIAGES, BIRTHS, and DEATHS registered in each REGISTRATION DISTRICT during the INTERCENSAL PERIOD 1891—1901 ; INCREASE or DECREASE of POPULATION compared with DIFFERENCE between BIRTHS and DEATHS.

NOTE.—The last two columns of this Table show how the increase or decrease of population in each District is the result of the difference between births and deaths and the balance of migration. For comparative purposes the value of the figures in these two columns is, however, seriously affected by the deaths occurring in large hospitals situated in certain Districts.

NOTE.—By Orders in Council, confirming schemes under the Local Government Act, 1899, the outer limits of the London School Board District were made identical with those of the Administrative County, but the interior boundaries of its Divisions do not appear to have been affected by the numerous parochial changes under the Act. It follows that, although most of the School Board Divisions were originally made up of entire Civil Parishes, several Parishes now extend into two or more Divisions.

TABLE 32.—OCCUPATIONS of MALES AGED 10 YEARS AND UPWARDS, at TEN GROUPS of AGES, in the COUNTY of LONDON, distinguishing for those engaged in certain industries the numbers returned as "WORKING AT HOME"; also as "EMPLOYERS," "WORKING FOR EMPLOYERS," "WORKING ON OWN ACCOUNT," and "OTHERS."

NOTE.—In classifying the people by their occupations the following rules have been observed :—Persons returned as engaged in more than one occupation have been referred to the occupation which in each case appeared to be the most important ; or, if there was no difference in this respect, to the occupation first mentioned in the Return. Thus, a manufacturing trade has been selected in preference to a selling trade. A Clergyman who is also a Schoolmaster has been classed under the heading "Schoolmaster." Persons returned as "Pensioners" or as "Retired" from any specified profession or business (except Officers of the Army or Navy, Clergymen, and Medical Men) appear in this Table as simply "Pensioners" or "Retired" (see Order XXIII.), but are classified in Table 34 according to their former occupations. Inmates of Lunatic Asylums or of Workhouses, when returned as Insane and yet described by their former occupations, have—irrespective of age—been classed as "Retired." Other Inmates of Workhouses, unless aged 60 years or upwards, and Patients in Hospitals and Prisoners of all ages, have been classed under their stated occupations on the assumption that their ordinary work has been relinquished for a time only. Inmates of Workhouses aged 60 years and upwards, whose former occupations were returned, have been dealt with as "Retired."

The numbers given under any heading include Apprentices, Assistants, Workmen and Labourers, as well as Masters, except where special headings are provided for subordinates. Messengers, Errand Boys, Porters, and Watchmen are, however, shown under a separate heading, and Clerks are classified as Civil Service Clerks, Bank Clerks, Railway Clerks, Insurance Clerks, or Commercial Clerks, according to the particular service in which they are engaged.

In some cases women and children, chiefly widows or orphans carrying on the business of their husbands or fathers, will be found under Occupations commonly followed only by adult men.

In the list of Occupations for Females, the Male designations of occupations are given for convenience, except where the occupations are exclusively followed by Females.

The figures in italics, in the section of the Table for Females, relate to the Married or Widowed. In order to find space for this additional information, those Occupations are omitted in which Females are not employed to any extent.

TABLE 34.—FORMER OCCUPATIONS of "PENSIONERS" and "RETIRED" in the COUNTY of LONDON, distinguishing those enumerated in WORKHOUSES and LUNATIC ASYLUMS, and also for FEMALES, the UNMARRIED, and the MARRIED or WIDOWED.

NOTE.—This Table is supplementary to Table 32, where the Pensioners and the Retired are shown simply as such without regard to their former Occupations. Inmates of Lunatic Asylums, or of Workhouses, when described as Insane and as having formerly followed some occupation, have been classed as "Retired," irrespective of age; also other formerly occupied Inmates of Workhouses if aged 60 years or upwards. Patients in Hospitals and Prisoners of all ages, on the assumption that their ordinary work has been relinquished for a time only, have not been dealt with as "Retired." No Officers in the Army or Navy, Clergymen of the Established Church, or members of the Medical Profession, are included in the "Retired."

* Of the 2,057 Persons in 1901 classified in the Table as Deaf and Dumb, 81 Males and 51 Females, respectively, were returned simply as "Dumb," as were also 46 Males and 19 Females classified as Deaf and Dumb from Childhood.
† The Deaf and Dumb from Childhood were not distinguished in the Tables for 1891.
‡ The Census Schedule did not require Persons who were Deaf without being Dumb to mention the fact of their Deafness, and therefore the figures given for the "Deaf" cannot be regarded as complete.
§ In 1891 the heading of the Census Schedule was "Lunatic, Imbecile or Idiot," and the Persons so returned were eventually classed as "Mentally Deranged." In 1901 the heading of the Schedule provided for two categories of the Mentally Deranged, viz., "Lunatic" and "Imbecile, Feeble-minded," and in drawing comparisons from the figures for the two Censuses, allowance must be made for these differences. The figures for 1891 for the new sub-divisions of Mentally Deranged cannot therefore be given. Total "Lunatic, Imbecile, and Feeble-minded," 1901:—7,058 Persons, 3,159 Males, 3,899 Females. Total "Mentally Deranged," 1891:—5,771 Persons, 2,579 Males, 3,192 Females.

NOTE.—The considerable numbers of persons suffering from one or other Infirmary in some of the Metropolitan Boroughs is due to the presence therein of Institutions in which such persons were enumerated. For instance, of the 1,599 Lunatic and Imbecile or Feeble-minded in Wandsworth, 1,331 were resident in the Middlesex County Lunatic Asylum.

* These figures include 132 persons returned simply as "Dumb."
+ These persons are also included in the totals of the several Infirmities from which they suffer. Those so afflicted "from Childhood" numbered 22.

TABLE 39A.—OCCUPATIONS of the BLIND (distinguishing those BLIND from CHILDHOOD), and of the DEAF and DUMB; PERSONS, MALES and FEMALES (UNMARRIED and MARRIED or WIDOWED), AGED 10 YEARS and UPWARDS, in the COUNTY of LONDON, 1901.

NOTE.—The Occupations have been abstracted precisely as entered in the Census Schedules, except that all persons in Workhouses over 60 years of age are classed as "Retired or Unoccupied." Those under 60 years have been classed to their respective occupations unless the word "Retired" has been added. It is probable that, where Blind persons are returned as Engine Drivers, Coachmen, etc., the word "Retired" or "Formerly" has been improperly omitted. Of the Blind returned as engaged in occupations (Orders I.—XXII.), 51 Males and 30 Females, and, of the Deaf and Dumb, 20 Males and 5 Females, were on the day of enumeration resident in Workhouses.
